LOG

1970

Ginny,

One day we're still going to have to have a long talk.
Now, that the end is near and only a few more lunches to share, I'm getting a little sad. One day
we'll all get together and (crack up) over all our good times
Be good & Good luck

(John 14:27) Love Ya,

God Bless Cathie

Reflections . . .

Throughout history, man has taken voyages of all kinds — voyages of actuality and voyages of thought. Life without its excursions would be very empty indeed since these stimulate activities. Voyages of thought create ideas and theories, often influencing voyages of actuality.

For ages man has dreamed of the most fantastic voyage ever — that of walking on the moon. Equipped only with advanced technology, man sought to conquer the exciting space frontier. Culminating a concentrated three-year project, Apollo 11 left earth for the moon and fulfilled a dream of mankind. The reflection of this feat on Buzz Aldrin's helmet stimulates speculations on the future.

Culminating a concentrated three-year study, the senior class will graduate and become the first class to complete the sophomore, junior, and senior level at Captain Shreve. Through these pages are reflections of the voyage this year, during which the images of the past now mingle with meditations of the future.

Reflections of Academic Life

Mr. Powell Cites Gators at Airline Rally

Promoting school spirit is only one of the never-ending duties of Mr. Stanley Powell, principal. One can see him observing a class, discussing a problem with a teacher, or walking down the hall offering a warm hello to a student. Aside from his responsibilities as principal of Captain Shreve, Mr. Powell is also avidly interested in Louisiana and its history. He has traveled all over the state and has even made films of Louisiana, some of which have been used in American history classes. This year Mr. Powell is also a consultant in the inservice program for second and third year teachers in the area of Language Arts.

Assistant Principals Guide, Motivate: Hennigan, Rains Coordinate Activities

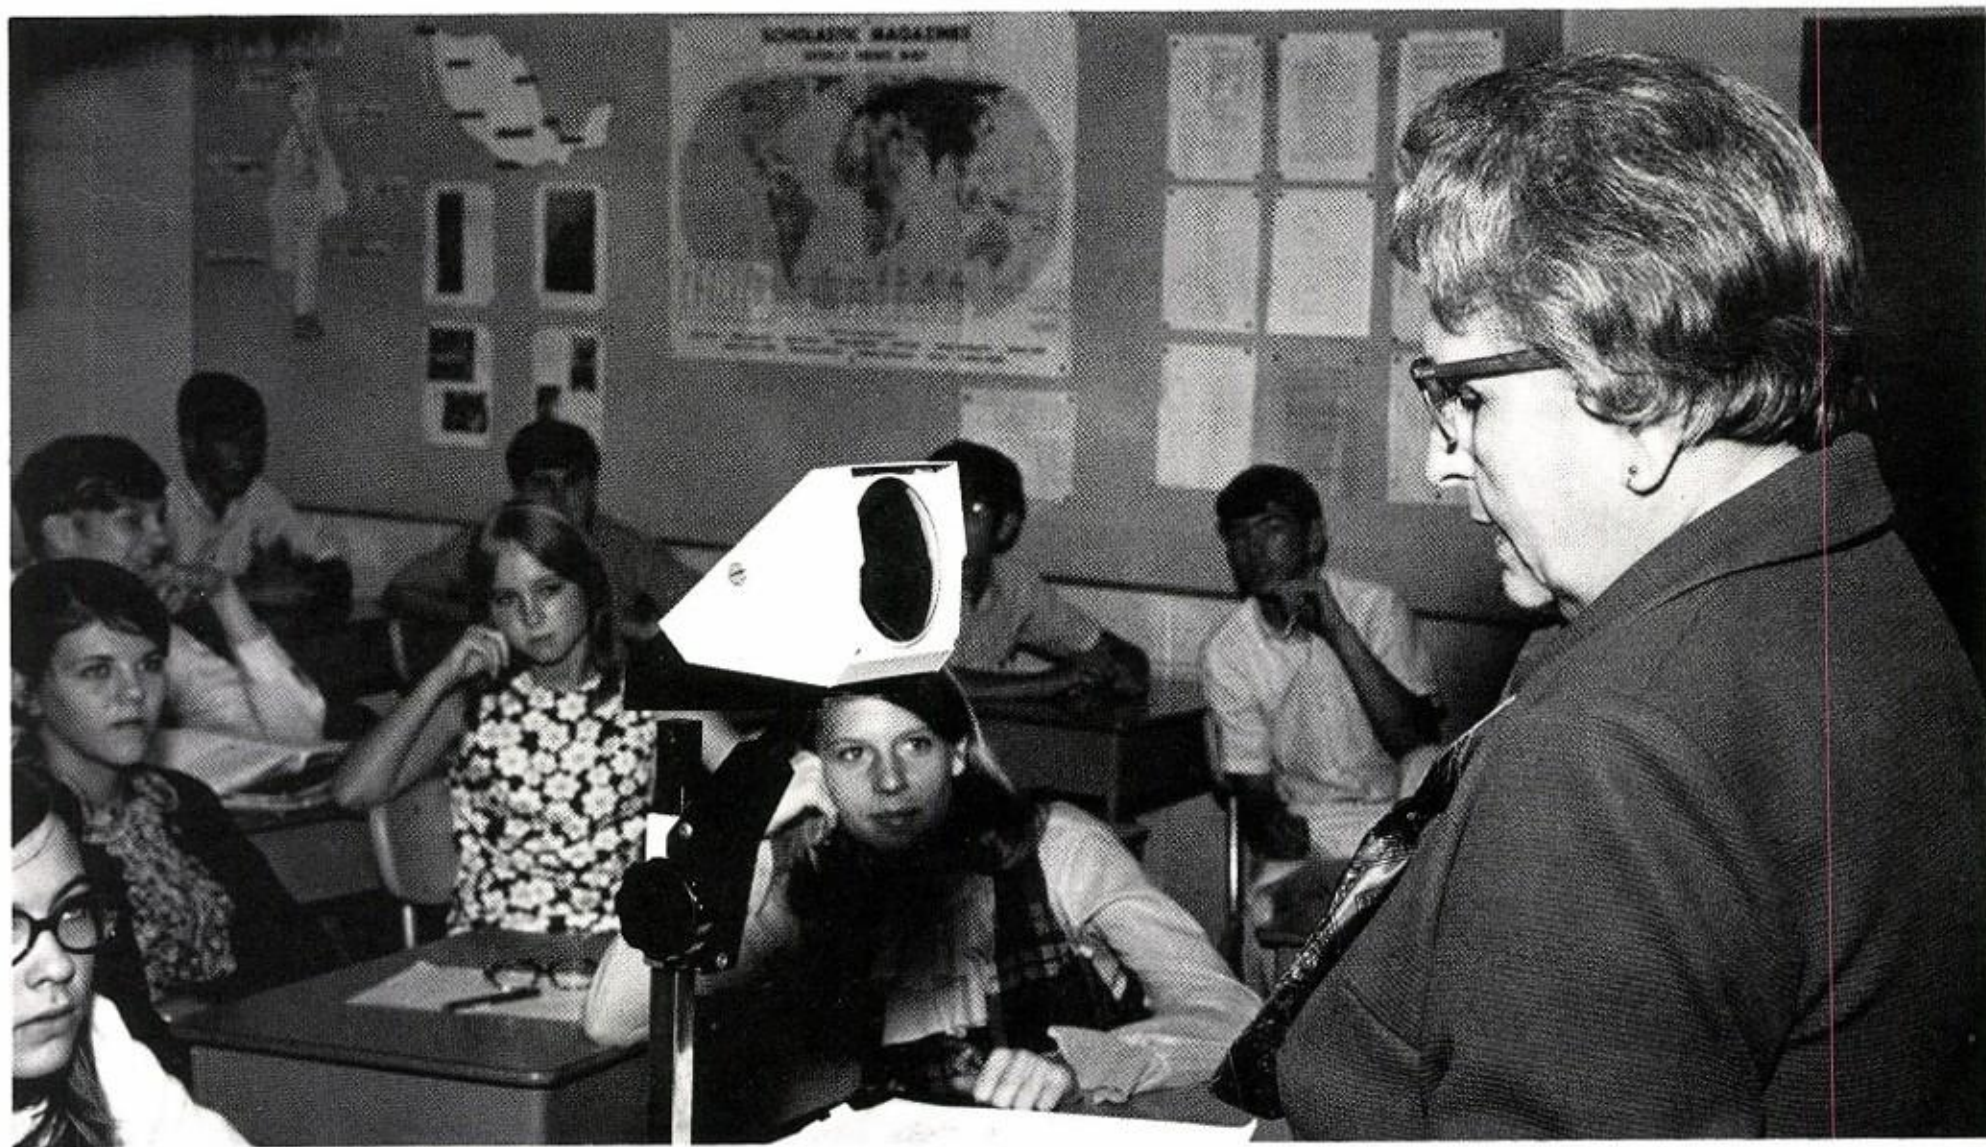

Two people who are essential to the operation of Captain Shreve are assistant principals, Mr. Wayne Hennigan and Mrs. Sarah Rains. Much of the responsibility of running the school is in their hands.

Mr. Hennigan supervises attendance, discipline, and school activities. His face is familiar at school dances and athletic events. The distribution of lunch passes is another time-consuming job of Mr. Hennigan's.

Mrs. Rains devotes her time to keeping records, advising teachers, and orientating new students. She may be found substituting for a teacher in any class, although Spanish is her specialty.

Counselors Give SAT to Seniors

This year Mrs. Mabel Walker, senior counselor, administered the California Test of Mental Maturity to senior students. She also helped students with scholarship applications and college choices.

Miss Inez Franz, junior counselor, directed the PSAT and National Merit Scholarship tests for juniors. Miss Franz also advises juniors on senior subjects and requirements for the college of their choice.

Mrs. Comiel Kendall, taking a personal interest in sophomore students, guides, directs, and advises them. She helps pupils become adjusted to their first year of high school.

Team-Teaching Is Used in English

For the first time this year Mrs. Carolyn Smith and Miss Martha Sneed correlated their English III and American history classes in a team-teaching effort to relate American literature with its history. Mrs. Gale Bridger and Mrs. Gayle Peterson combined their English IV classes for class discussions and projects.

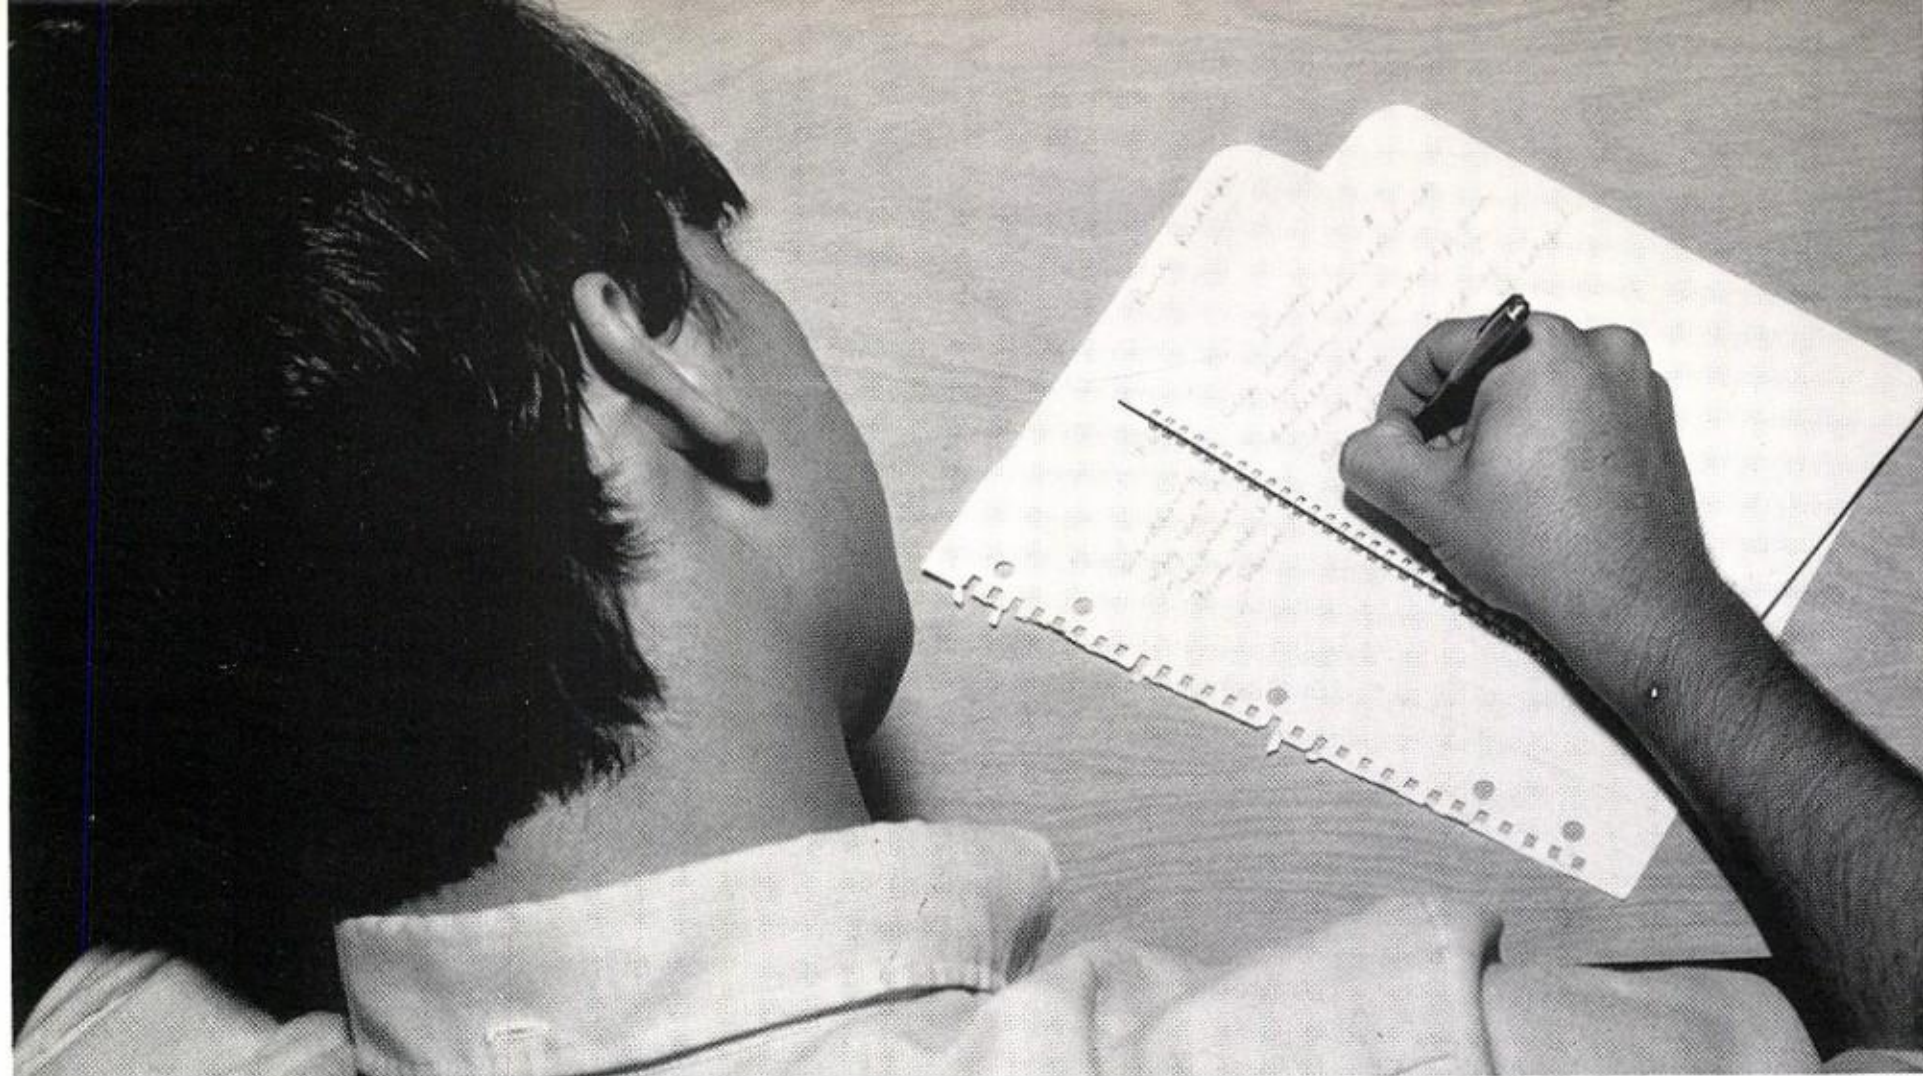

English IV deals mainly with English literature and history; while English III instructs the student in composition and an overview of American literature. English II provides sophomores with the essentials of grammar, basic writing skills, spelling, and vocabulary. Through these courses the student comprehends grammar, writing, and literature.

English Inspires Creativity in Students

Speech, journalism, drama, and creative writing provide a variety of interests for English students. Mr. Jack Bogan's speech classes learn the art of communication through demonstration, expository, and impromptu speeches, all which prepare the student for his final oration. Journalism students write, layout, and sell the Enterprise. Mrs. Mary Tullie Critcher's drama students learn by performing and participating in skits and pantomimes. In Mrs. Gale Bridger's creative writing class the students not only learn the required information for senior English, but also study styles of prominent and well-known authors.

History Students Conduct Elections

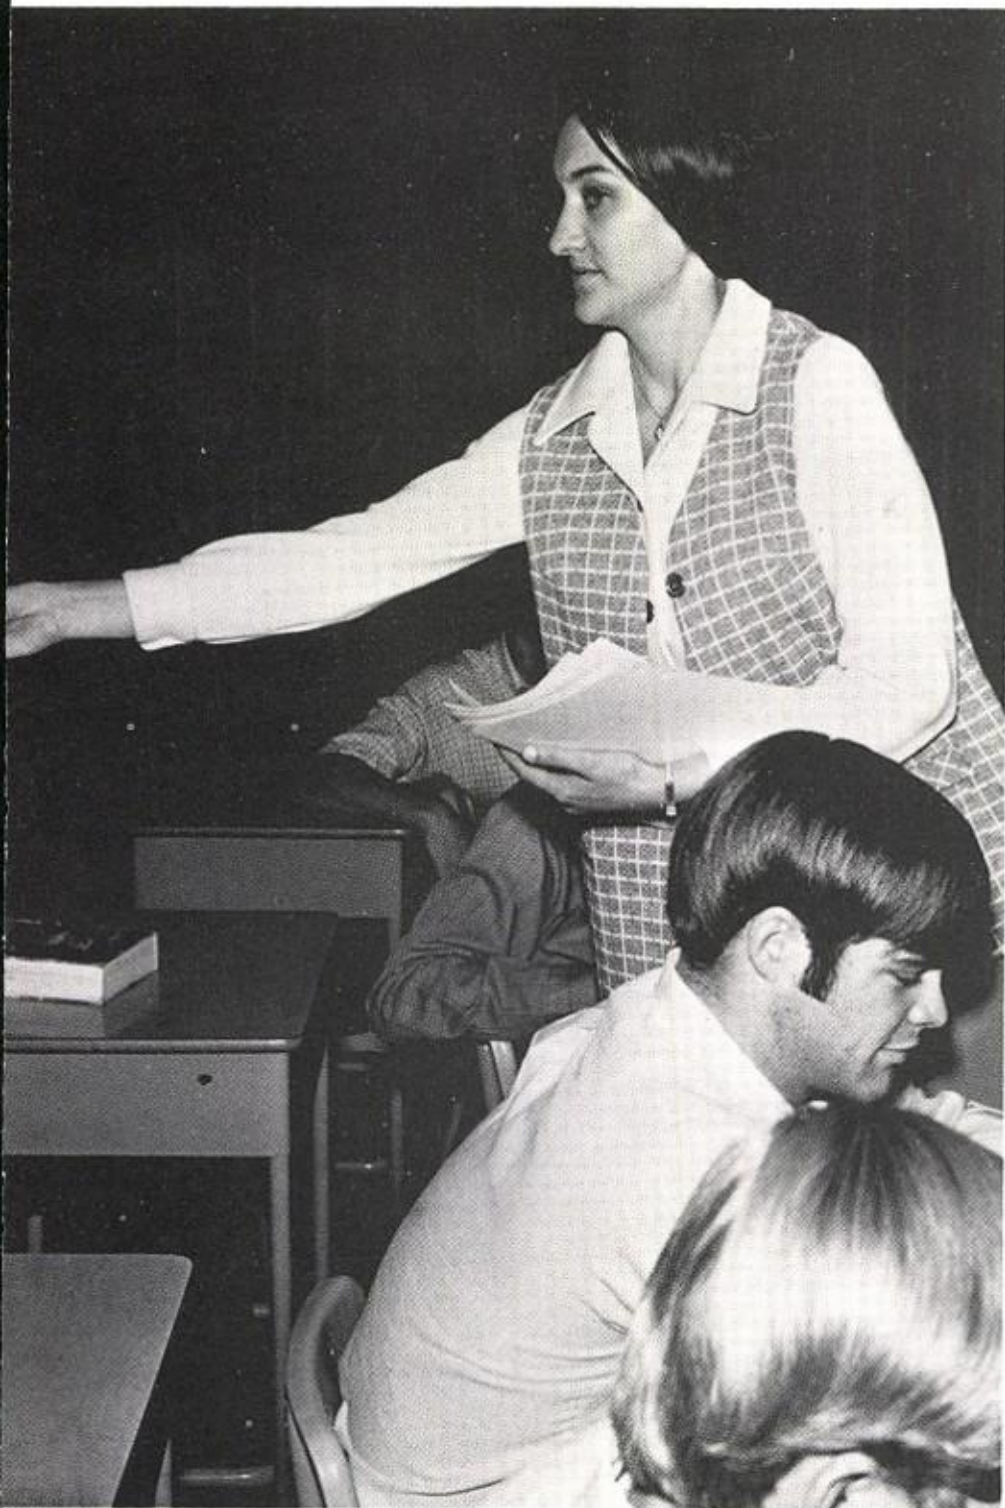

This year Mrs. Eleanor Cameron's government classes held presidential elections to experience a campaign. Miss Martha Sneed's American history classes studied propaganda through the use of games. Miss Georgia Lee makes her world history classes more interesting by showing her slides of Egypt and Japan.

Social Studies courses at Captain Shreve include world history, American History, world geography, civics, and government and economics. World history traces man's development from ancient times. American history presents the story of America from the time of its discovery. World geography describes the land and climate of the world. Civics and government and economics discuss the systems by which man governs himself.

Math Classes Use New 101 Computer

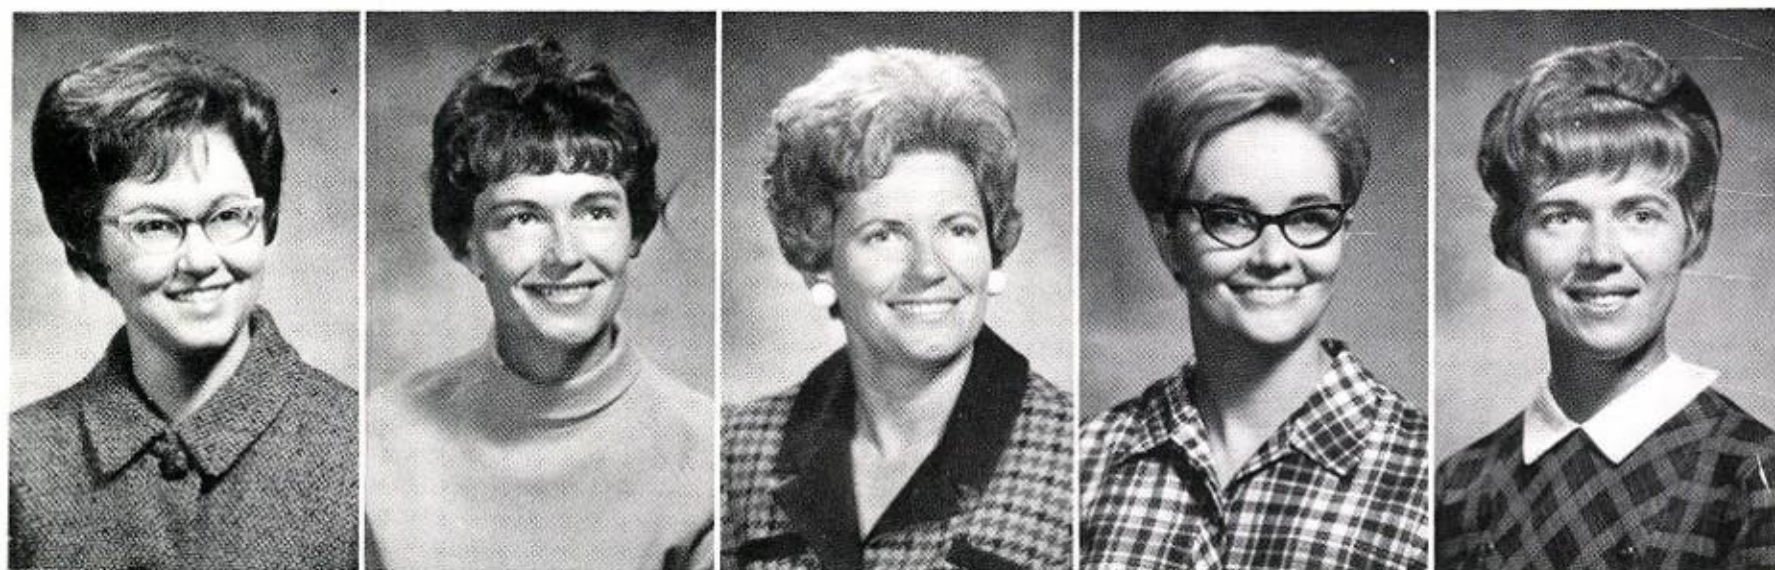

For the first time this year Miss Sandra McCalla's advanced math students utilized an Underwood 101 computer. Mrs. Kathryn Bennett's geometry classes use large geometric figures to illustrate the principles of geometry.

The math department offers six courses in mathematics, four which prepare the student for college. These are geometry, Algebra I, Algebra II, and advanced math. The other courses, general math and business math, teach students basic principles for everyday problems and financial needs. Algebra I and Algebra II instruct the student in quadratic equations, logarithms, and trigonometric functions.

Girls' P.E. Adds Coed Golf Course

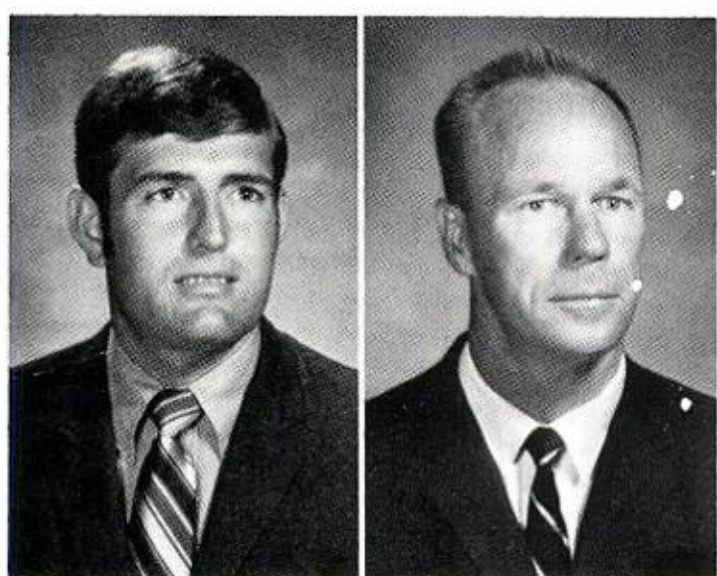

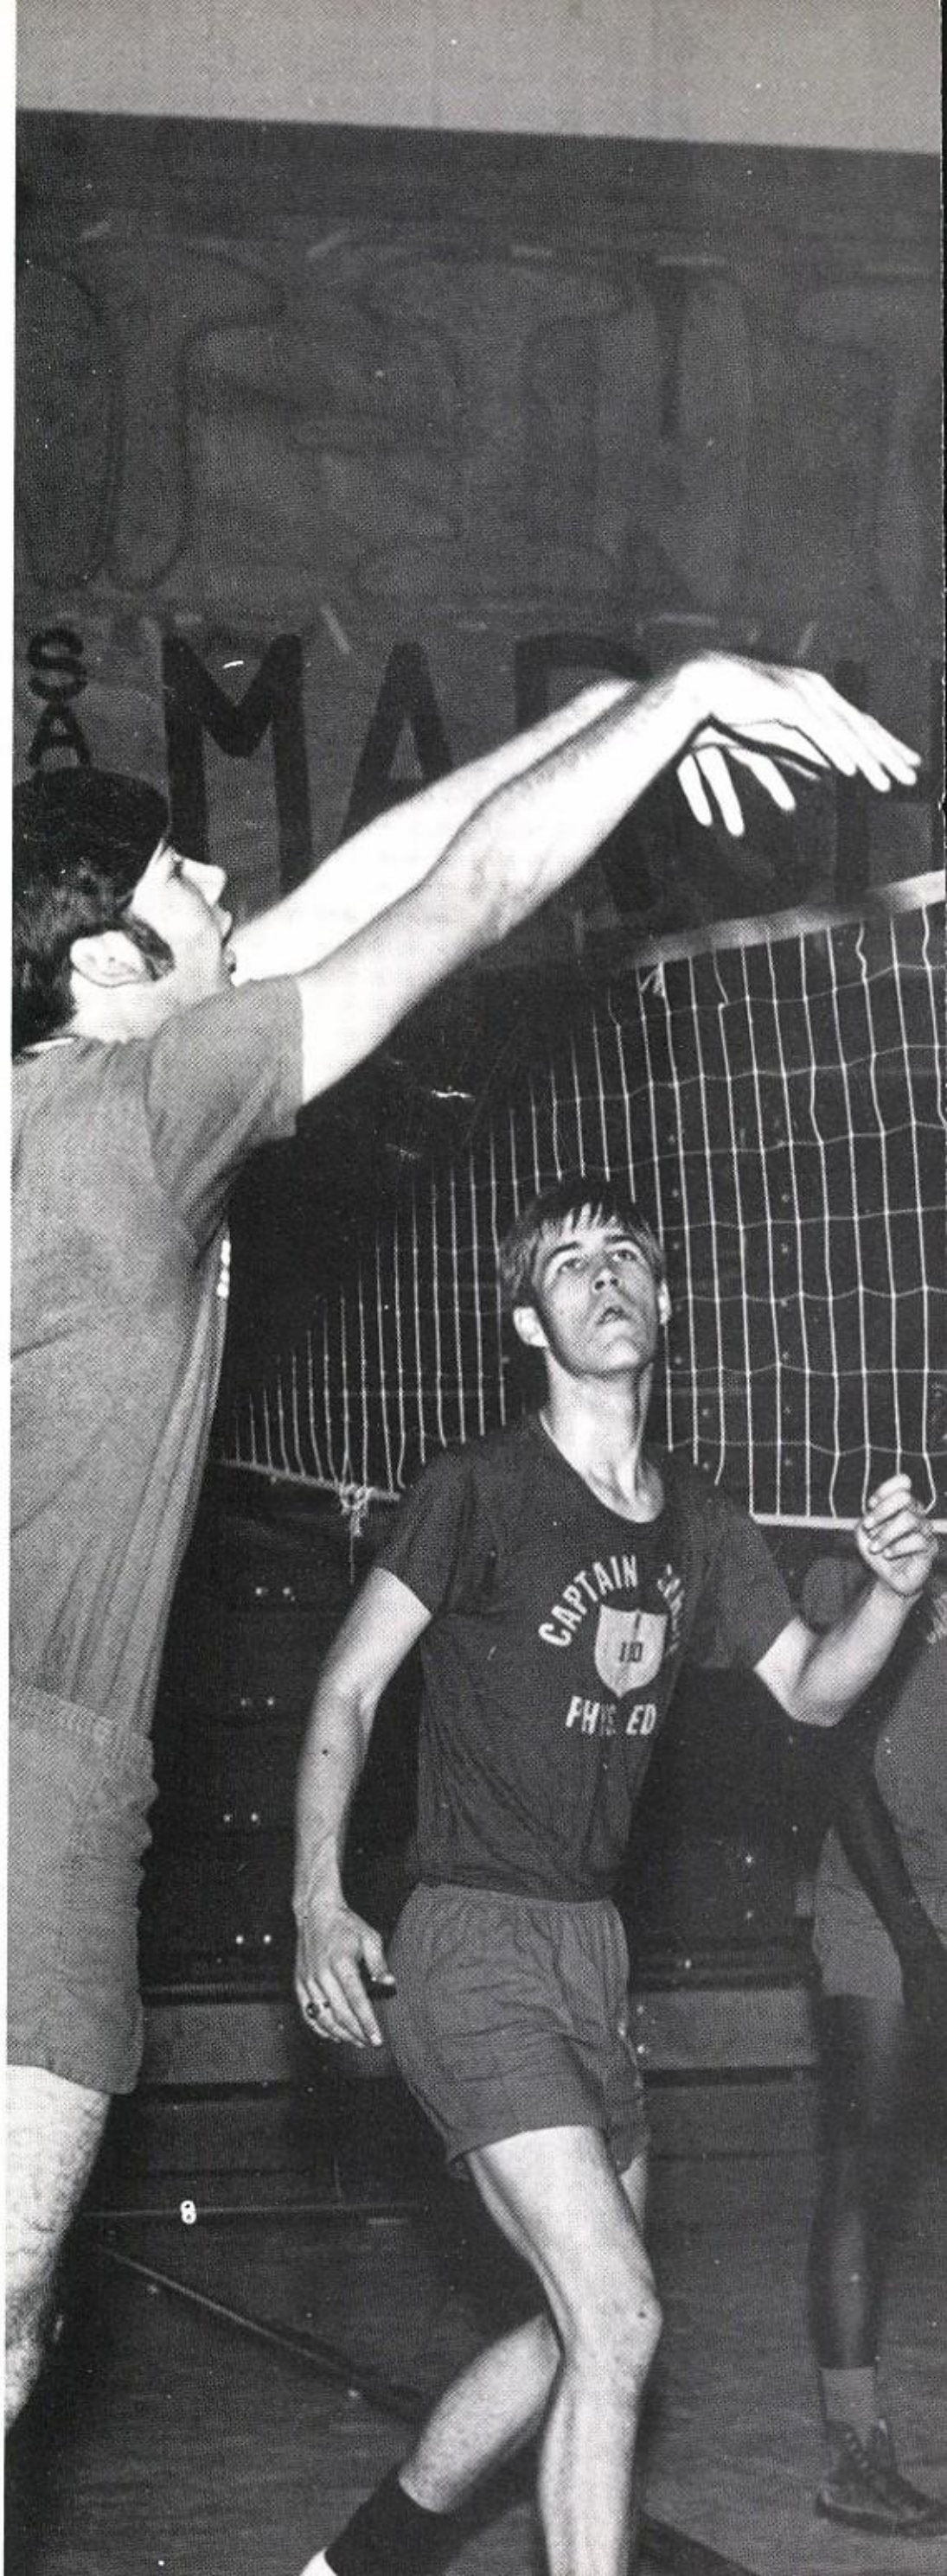

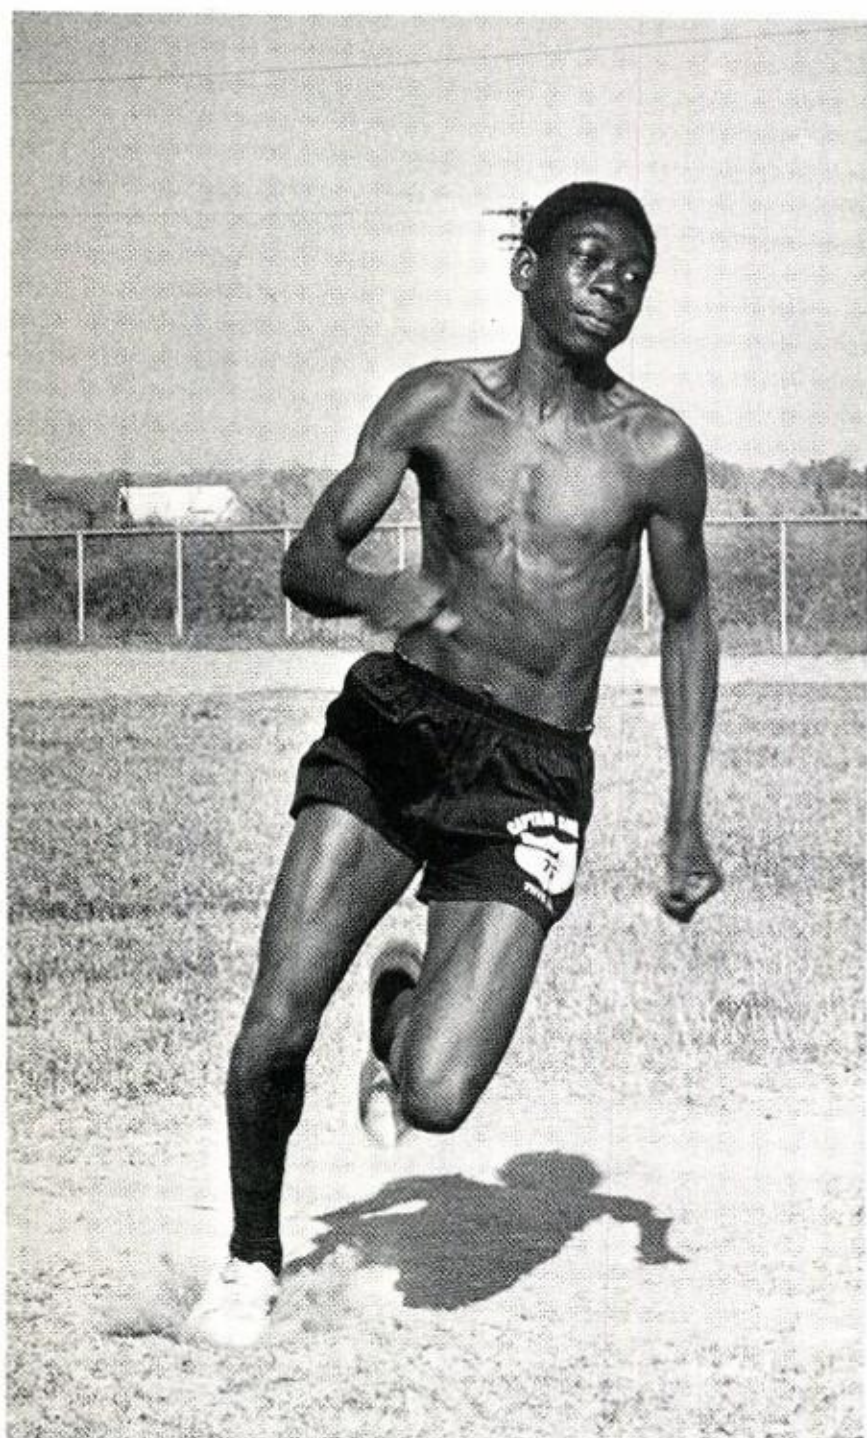

This year the girls' physical education classes at Captain Shreve have added something new: boys. While studying the skills of golf, the girls' and boys' classes combined to form a coeducational course.

Besides golf, the girls participated in learning the skills of football, basketball, baseball, tennis, volleyball, gymnastics, archery, dancing, and exercises. For variety exercise routines are often done to music. A health and first aid course is also included. Overall the P.E. department is trying to stress physical fitness, skill, and endurance through the study of competitive sports.

Insurance Agent Counsels Drivers

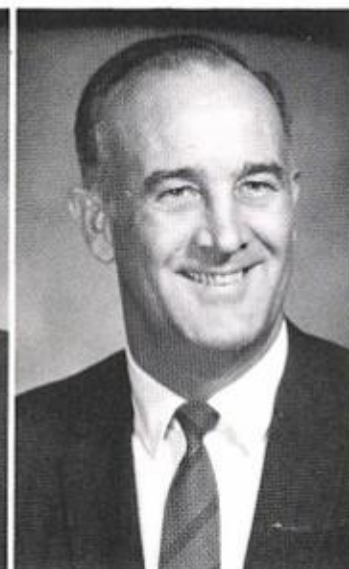

Because lower insurance premiums often result from driver's education, a local insurance representative spoke to classes in October. In the thirty hours of classroom instruction in this program, students see true-to-life films on auto safety, use new driving simulators, change tires on cars, and take tests on color blindness, vision, and depth perception.

Parallel parking and approaching I-20 present problems to most inexperienced drivers. Answers to any questions they may have are in the six hours of behind-the-wheel training which are included in the driver's education program.

Honor Roll Notes

Industrious Cadets

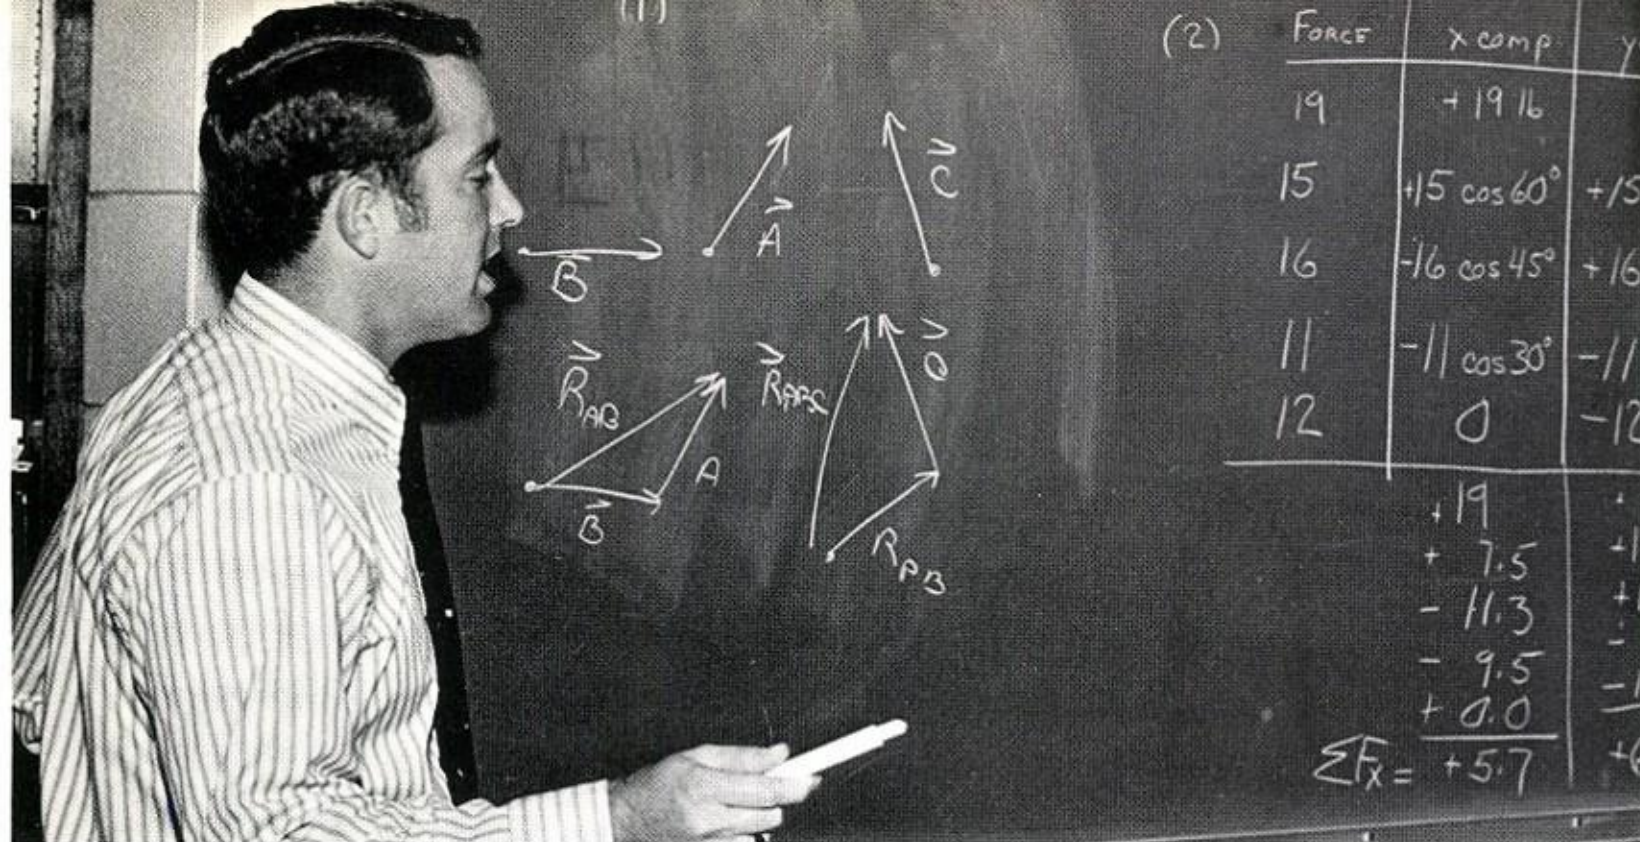

Cries of "Forward march!" are familiar to the ears of ROTC cadets as they spend long hours marching outside. While inside the classroom, they study military strategy and history, and the handling of weapons. As recognition for those who achieve perfect scores in military science, the commandant of cadets lists their names on the honor roll.

With an enrollment of one hundred fifty-four, which is a record high at the school, the Captain Shreve corps is eligible for the honor school award. This is presented to units which have one hundred or more members and which pass a federal inspection.

Physicists Hear Centenary Speaker

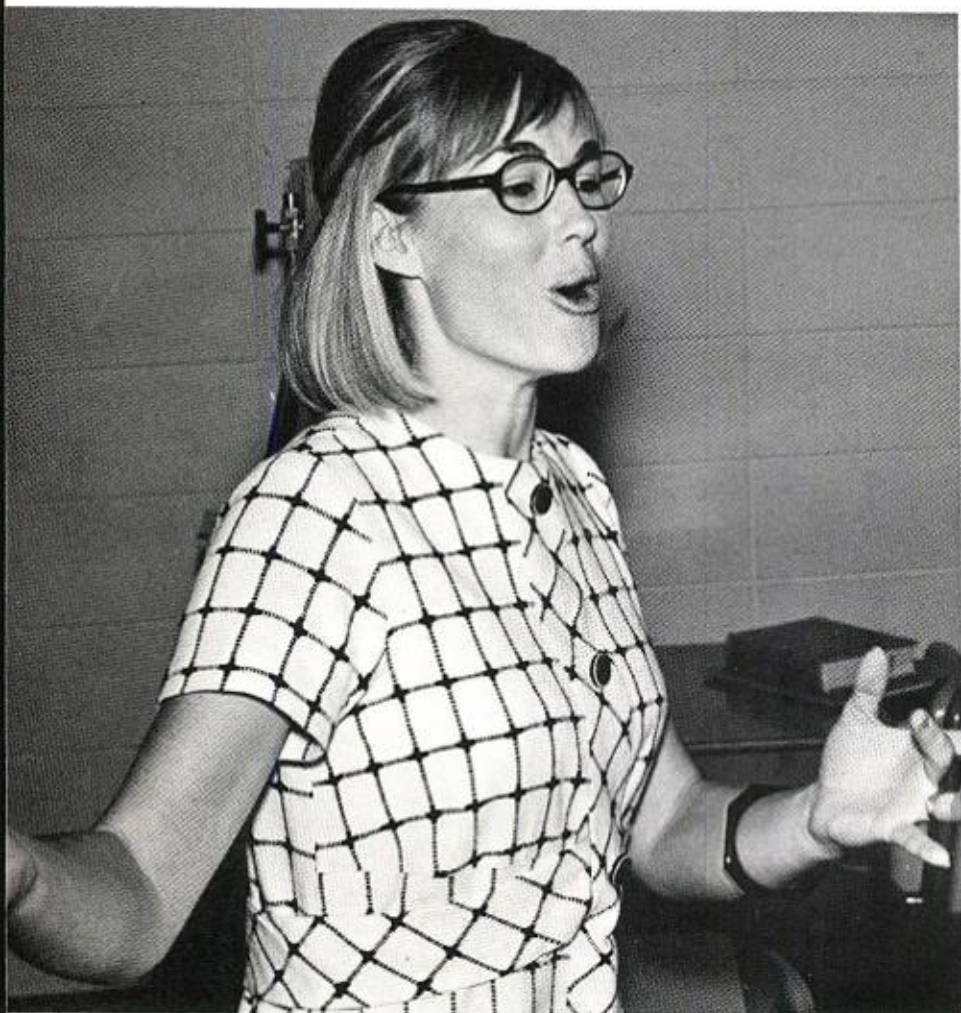

Representatives from Centenary College, United Pennzoil, Western Electric, and Confederate Memorial Hospital spoke to physics classes this year. Outside speakers such as these and new lab equipment were high points of the science department's year.

Laying the foundation for advanced courses in other sciences, such as physics, chemistry, and biology, general science probes the basic scientific laws. Biology classes, by collecting leaves, raising mold, and dissecting frogs, study life. While tackling complicated formulas and experiments, prospective physicists examine energy and its effects on matter.

September Sees German Debut

"Auf Wiedersehen" or "Good-bye" in German is now an everyday expression to many students, especially those in the first German class at Captain Shreve. Taught by Mrs. Ruth Page, this newest course joins Latin, French, and Spanish in the foreign language department.

Whether the classes are staging skits, wearing togas, or singing Christmas carols, the foreign language program goes beyond the basic skills of listening, pronouncing, and writing. Culminating the year, the USL Foreign Language Festival and the Latin Convention presented awards to students competing from across the state.

Musicians Join in Christmas Concert

Combining their talents for a Christmas concert on December 16 and another performance in the spring, the band, choir, and orchestra entertain both the school and their families and friends. These organizations, along with music appreciation and ROTC band, compose the music department.

The band and orchestra cultivate skill in playing instruments. The choir develops voice usage, and ROTC band provides march music for cadets. Music appreciation evaluates the different periods of music in history and the works of great composers. All-state honors in band, choir, and orchestra are goals for dedicated musicians.

Knights Share Art Class With Gators

While developing talent in painting and sculpture, the art department provided bulletin board displays in the office, decorations for the prom and talent show, and scenery for plays. Financing these projects and purchasing new supplies, they sold handmade ceramic gator banks for three dollars each.

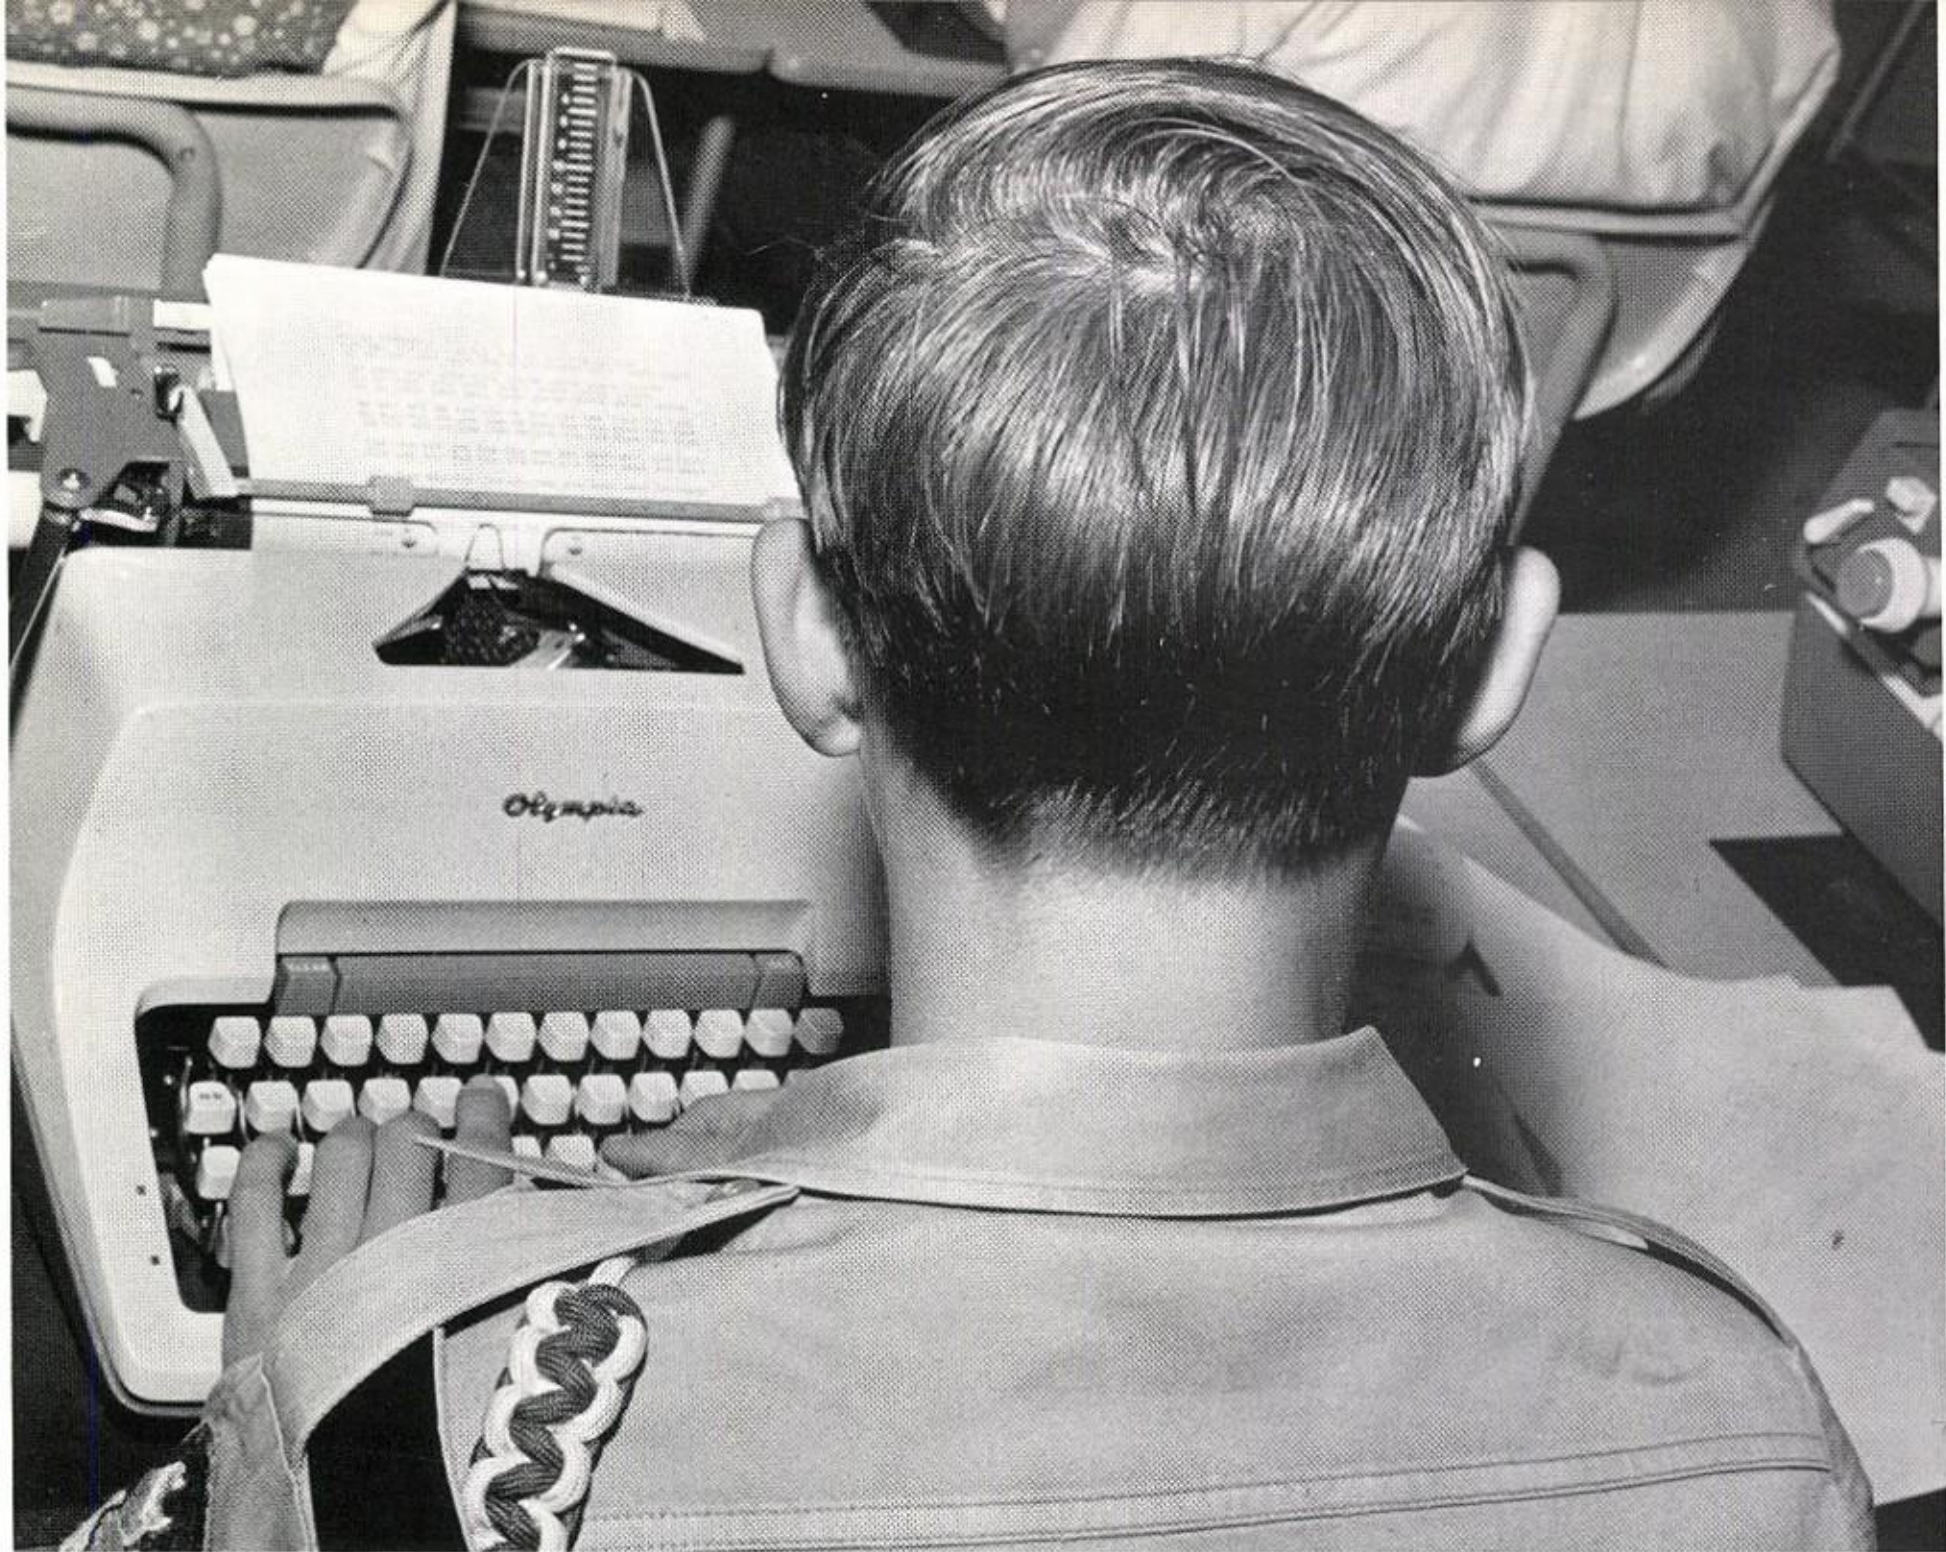

As members of the three-hour commercial art class, four seniors from Woodlawn attended Captain Shreve each morning. Robert Gentry, Kathy Langston, Bob Lofton, and Terry Ward promote cooperation between the two schools while exploring the fields of illustration, advertising, and photography.

Youth Worker Shows Movies

Films on job interviews, job applications, and the operation of business machines were shown to business classes in December by a speaker from the Youth Opportunity Center. Other outside speakers and new equipment such as adding machines highlighted the year in the business courses.

Typing develops skill in use of the typewriter, and bookkeeping teaches the correct completion of business forms and rules of accounting. Earphones are common sights in shorthand classes as students take dictation. Clerical office practice and general business include filing, use of adding and copying machines, and mailing.

Industrial Arts Uses New Tools

New instruments for drawing were added to the industrial arts department this year. Saving time and energy, these mechanical pencils have increased the amount of technical equipment available for use by the students.

In mechanical drawing, students reproduce pictures of floor plans, maps, graphs, and machine parts. In small motors, they repair, dismantle, and assemble lawn mower engines; and in electronics, they wire simple circuits and operate electrical equipment. All of the industrial arts courses train the mechanically-minded students for future occupations.

Cosmetics Expert Visits in October

Demonstrating new cosmetics, Mrs. Rita Bode from Fashion 220 spoke to home economics classes in October. Other outside speakers, including representatives from Palais Royal, Shreveport Beauty School, Saybrook Fabrics, and Arkla Gas, highlighted these courses with comments on wigs, hairstyling, and fashion designing.

Learning by doing is the most important aspect of the home economics and home and family living classes. Using new touch-and-sew machines, dishwashers, and a self-cleaning oven, students cook, sew, wash clothes, scrub floors, and improve their personal appearance.

DE Pupils Apply for Various Jobs

"Experience needed" is a phrase that often appears in want ads, and many job applicants lacking that requirement have trouble finding work. Distributive Education eliminates this problem by providing training for future employment.

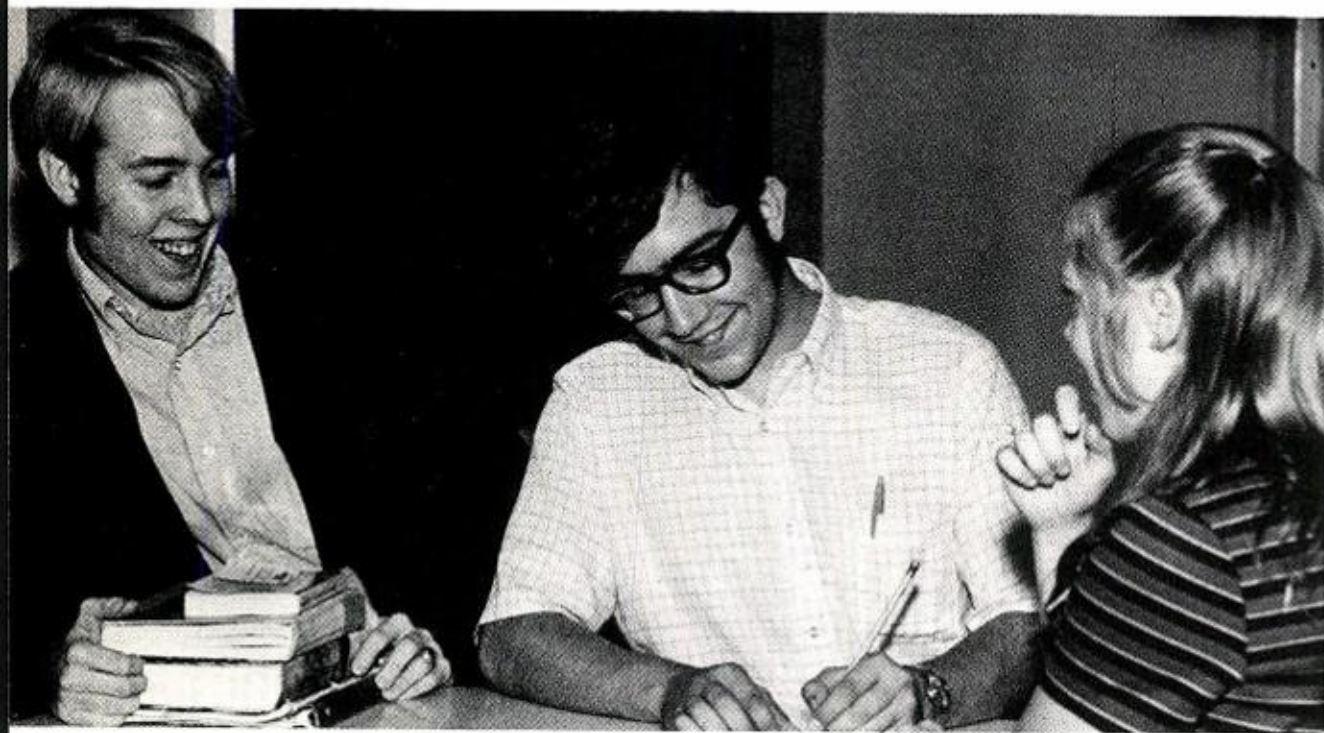

Distributive education students must be juniors or seniors. They attend school for half a day, and this schedule includes a one-hour course covering such subjects as job interviewing, marketing, and advertising. Carrying groceries, wiping windshields, and selling books, they spend afternoons working in local supermarkets, service stations, and department stores.

From 8:00 — 3:00 Every Day Varies

Within the round walls of Captain Shreve, all students respond to teachers, schedules, and friends. They seek isolation at times to study, and fall into the everyday routine of six periods from eight to three. But within each day's pattern of classes, lunch, clubs, and study halls, every student manages to "do his own thing."

For some, a day includes proofs, balancing equations, and intense concentration. Another student might visit the office to check out (due to illness) or to see a counselor. Each student's day is unique in itself, whether it be filled with tests, assemblies, or band practice.

Expressions . . .

Have you ever read a face? In the band room you might reveal a struggle with a foreign instrument, or the awareness of a true accomplishment in music. In the classroom, someone studying is withdrawing from the world, and his face shows his mood.

The most unique expressions that are found, however, are those of the people coming and leaving the school. They tell a story of a person's warmth, the anticipation of a spirit breakfast, or the fear of a mid-term examination.

In Spite of Rain Pep Squad Yells

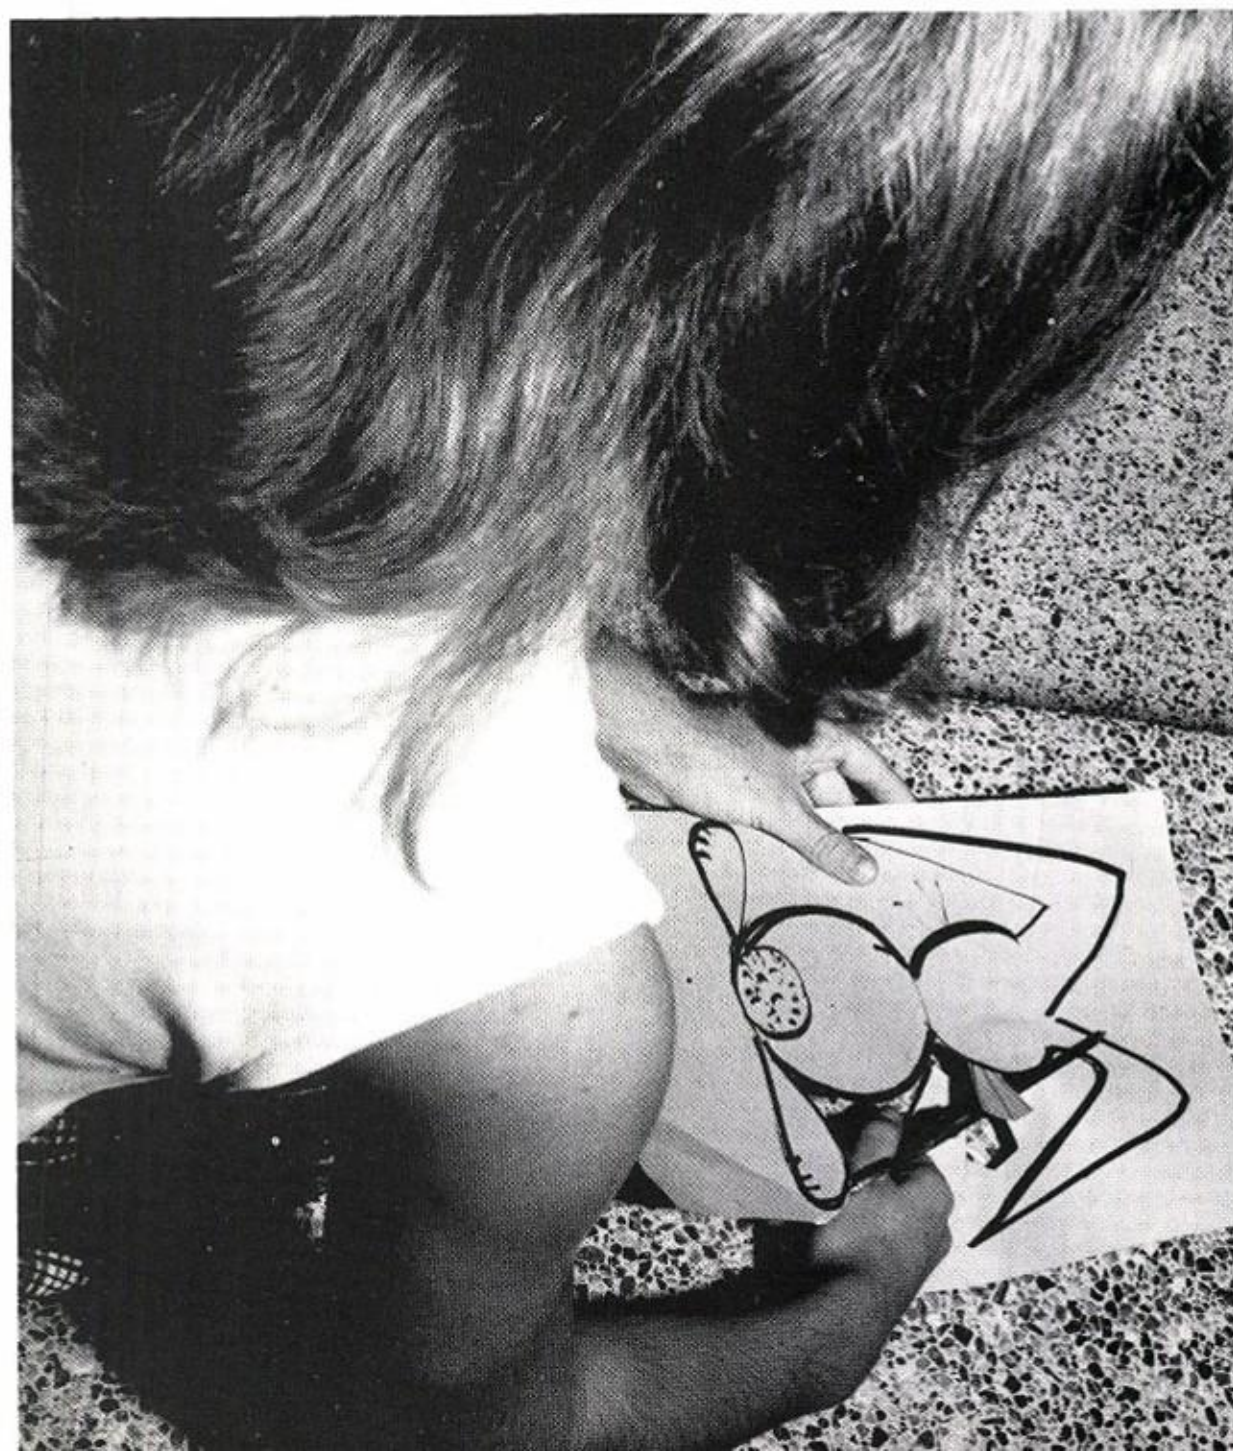

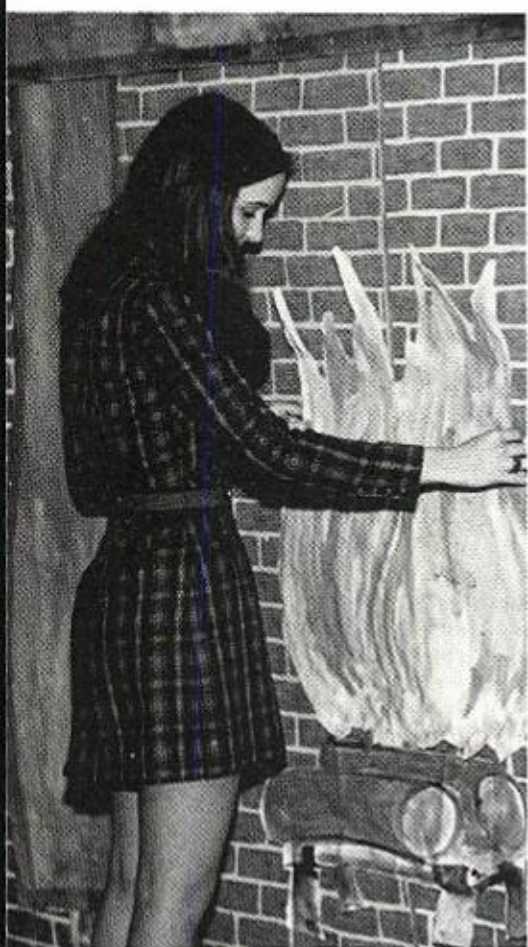

As reliable as the mail, school manages to stay open through the heat and the cold and the rain of each year. Weather plays an important part in school lives, because it creates moods for study, influencing those all-important grades. One can witness this coming to school each day. Bright, sunny days seem to reflect students' faces as happy and alive, eager for the three o'clock bell; while on rainy days or icy ones, students rush in through pouring rain, or from freezing temperatures, with sighs of relief, awaiting the end of another day of study and hard work.

Halloween Masks Donned at Rally

From the first day to the last, the seasons play a big part in life at Captain Shreve. The fall season was highlighted by a Halloween pep rally complete with masks. As Thanksgiving approached there was a food drive sponsored by "Z" Club and Key Club.

The transition from fall to winter brought the Christmas season. "Z" Club stockings lined the front foyer. Later they were delivered, filled with surprises. While winter days were passing, spring began to appear. Peter Rabbit visited school with Easter eggs and colorful bulletin boards.

It was Christmas. It was carols and hymns sung by the choir and mistletoe balls sold by the junior class. It was Z-club stockings and gayly decorated doors wishing yuletide greetings. It was a tree with ornaments of green and gold.

Christmas spirit was present at the pep rally for the Ark-La-Tex-Tournament. Santa Claus arrived with a bag of goodies and tried his hardest to please the Gator basketball team, but what they wanted was intangible. It was to win the Bolton game, and they did.

The Christmas season was heightened with a two week vacation. Everyone was merry because it was Christmas.

Sophomores Like Air-Conditioning

Sophomores have come to Captain Shreve this year wondering with eager anticipation about the three years ahead of them. Making the most of his high school days was the goal of each sophomore. In order to achieve this, they began to be involved; joining clubs, cheering at pep rallies, buying flowers from juniors, sophomores contributed to various activities.

The sophomore year is one of the beginnings; beginning high school — three wonderful years from which memories and friends are made that will last through college and longer — and beginning to become a real person, involved, committed, and caring.

Juniors Promote Valentine's Day

Juniors '70 provided Captain Shreve with the foundation of spirit, perseverance, and loyalty. Filling order blanks, making cakes, delivering them, and turning in the money were the duties performed by nearly every junior during the cake sale organized to raise money for the prom in the spring.

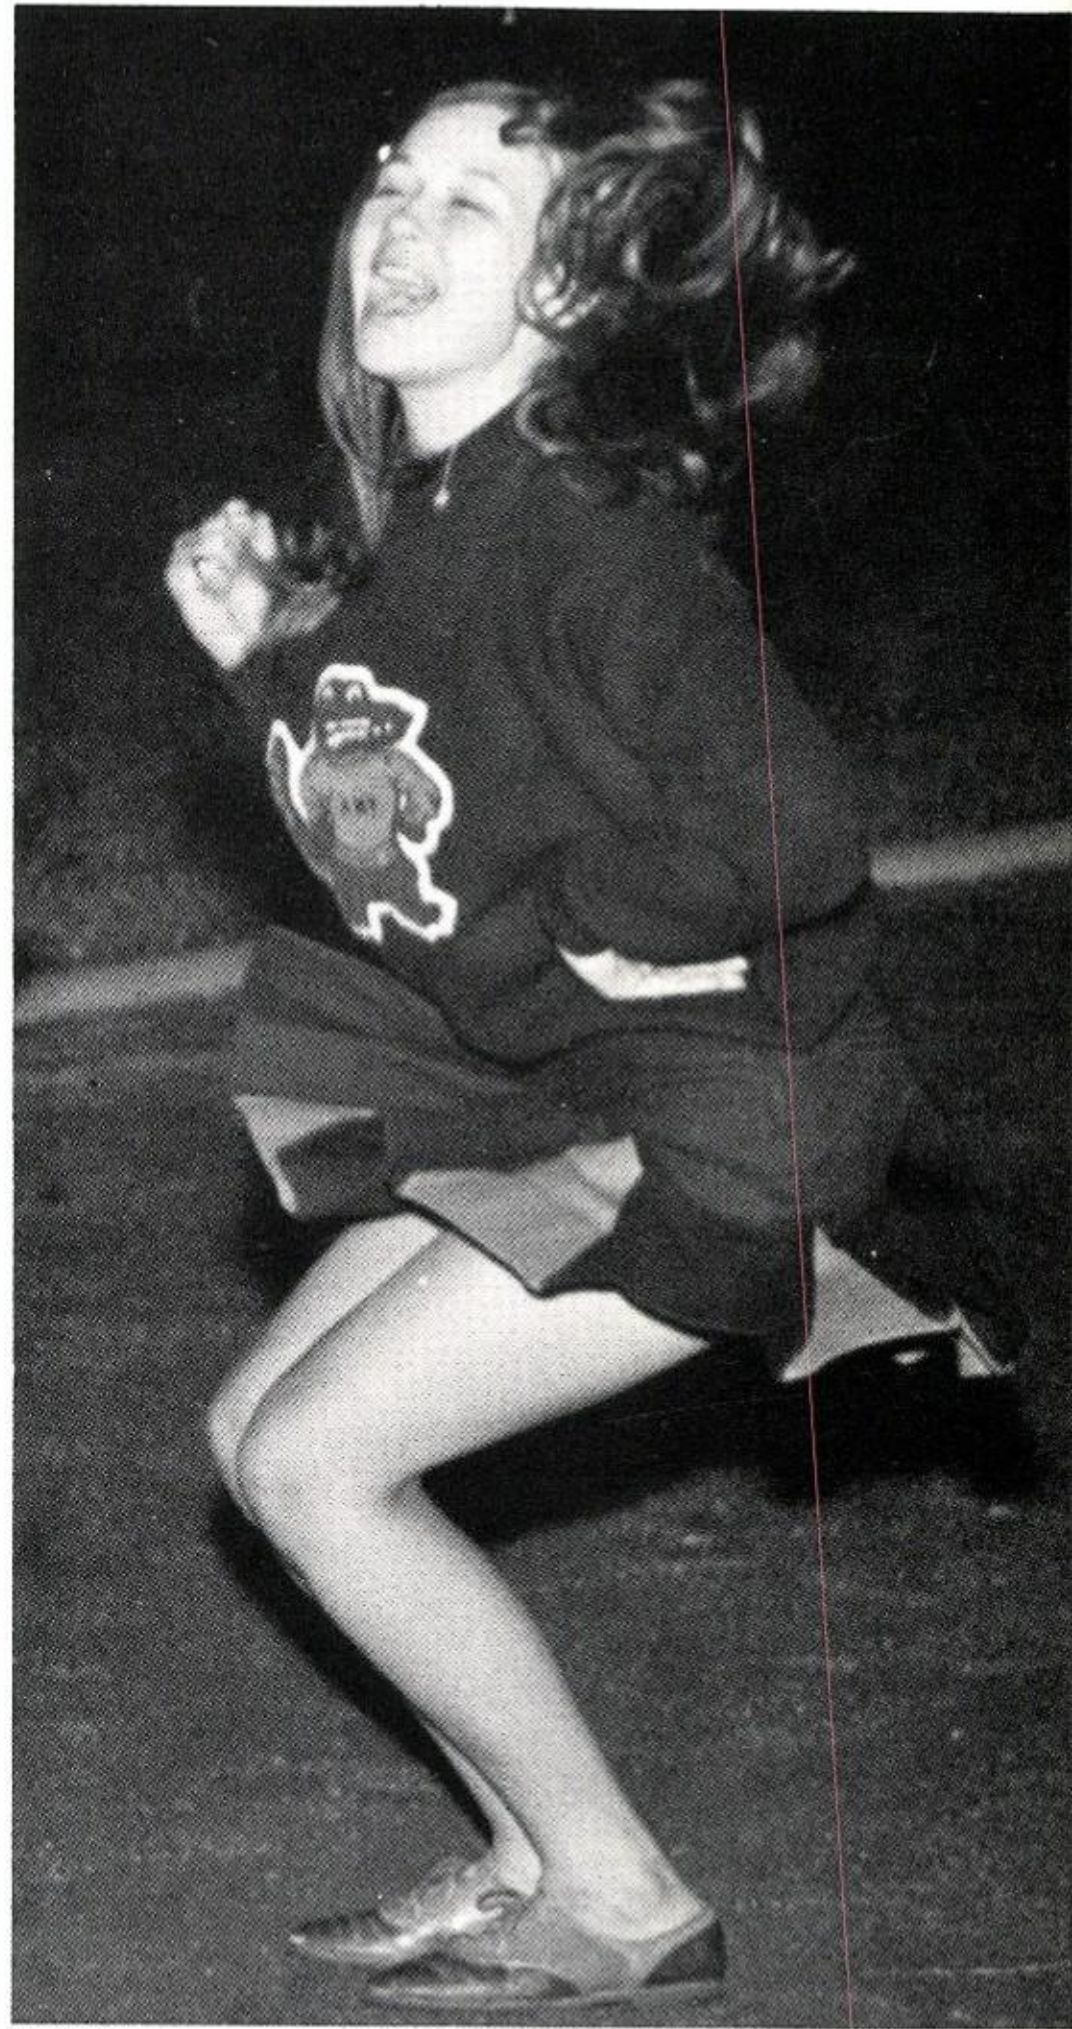

Another moneymaking junior effort was Flower Hour, when members of the junior class sold flowers to be delivered first period, February 13. Juniors also made net mistletoe balls.

Senior Drummers Lead Gatoettes

Mr. Powell said at the first Student Council meeting, speaking particularly to the seniors, "This is our year, it is the critical year. If Captain Shreve should have a good year, this should be it." Only the seniors of 1970 can understand and feel the closeness they do to Captain Shreve after building, establishing, and graduating in three short years.

Seniors set many traditions to be followed long after they are gone. As sophomores they were represented in the senior ring committee, wrote the alma mater, and sophomore cheerleaders evoked spirit. Now, as seniors, they can look back, and truly say that they are the establishers.

Graffiti Adorns Walls of School

One of the notable features of Captain Shreve at one of its election times or major games, is the graffiti on the walls. Sophomores, juniors and seniors of every walk have made posters and banners showing favoritism for a certain candidate, spirit for a certain game, or a city cause such as "Stash Your Trash."

A great deal of work, talent, and participation provides the school in its periodic bursts of color, with all the slogans and support needed.

Captain Shreve is filled with many talented artists and, because of their desire to create, Captain Shreve's imagination is pictured on the walls.

Rally is Splash

Captain Shreve's many games are highlighted each week with pep rallies designed to instill in each person school spirit. To start each game-day morning off, spirit tags and tickets are sold.

The pep rallies, beginning at 2:35 p.m., are run by the cheerleaders. Banners hanging in the gym, each a work of art, are painted by cheerleaders and volunteers. After the National Anthem and Alma Mater, the cheerleaders create undying spirit in the cheers they perform. Then, that night, the gators "do their thing," and the fans roar.

Sales Back Prom

From the very beginning of this school year, juniors have been thinking of as many successful moneymaking schemes as they can in order to give a Junior-Senior Prom no one will ever forget.

First on the list of activities was the cake sale. Everyone aided this drive by either making or buying a cake. Flower Hour was another success as lovers and friends exchanged beautiful carnations.

Decorations for this year's Prom were centered around the drama and excitement of the circus. A good time was enjoyed by all thanks to the moneymaking, creative Junior Class.

Penny Arcade Is Homecoming Band

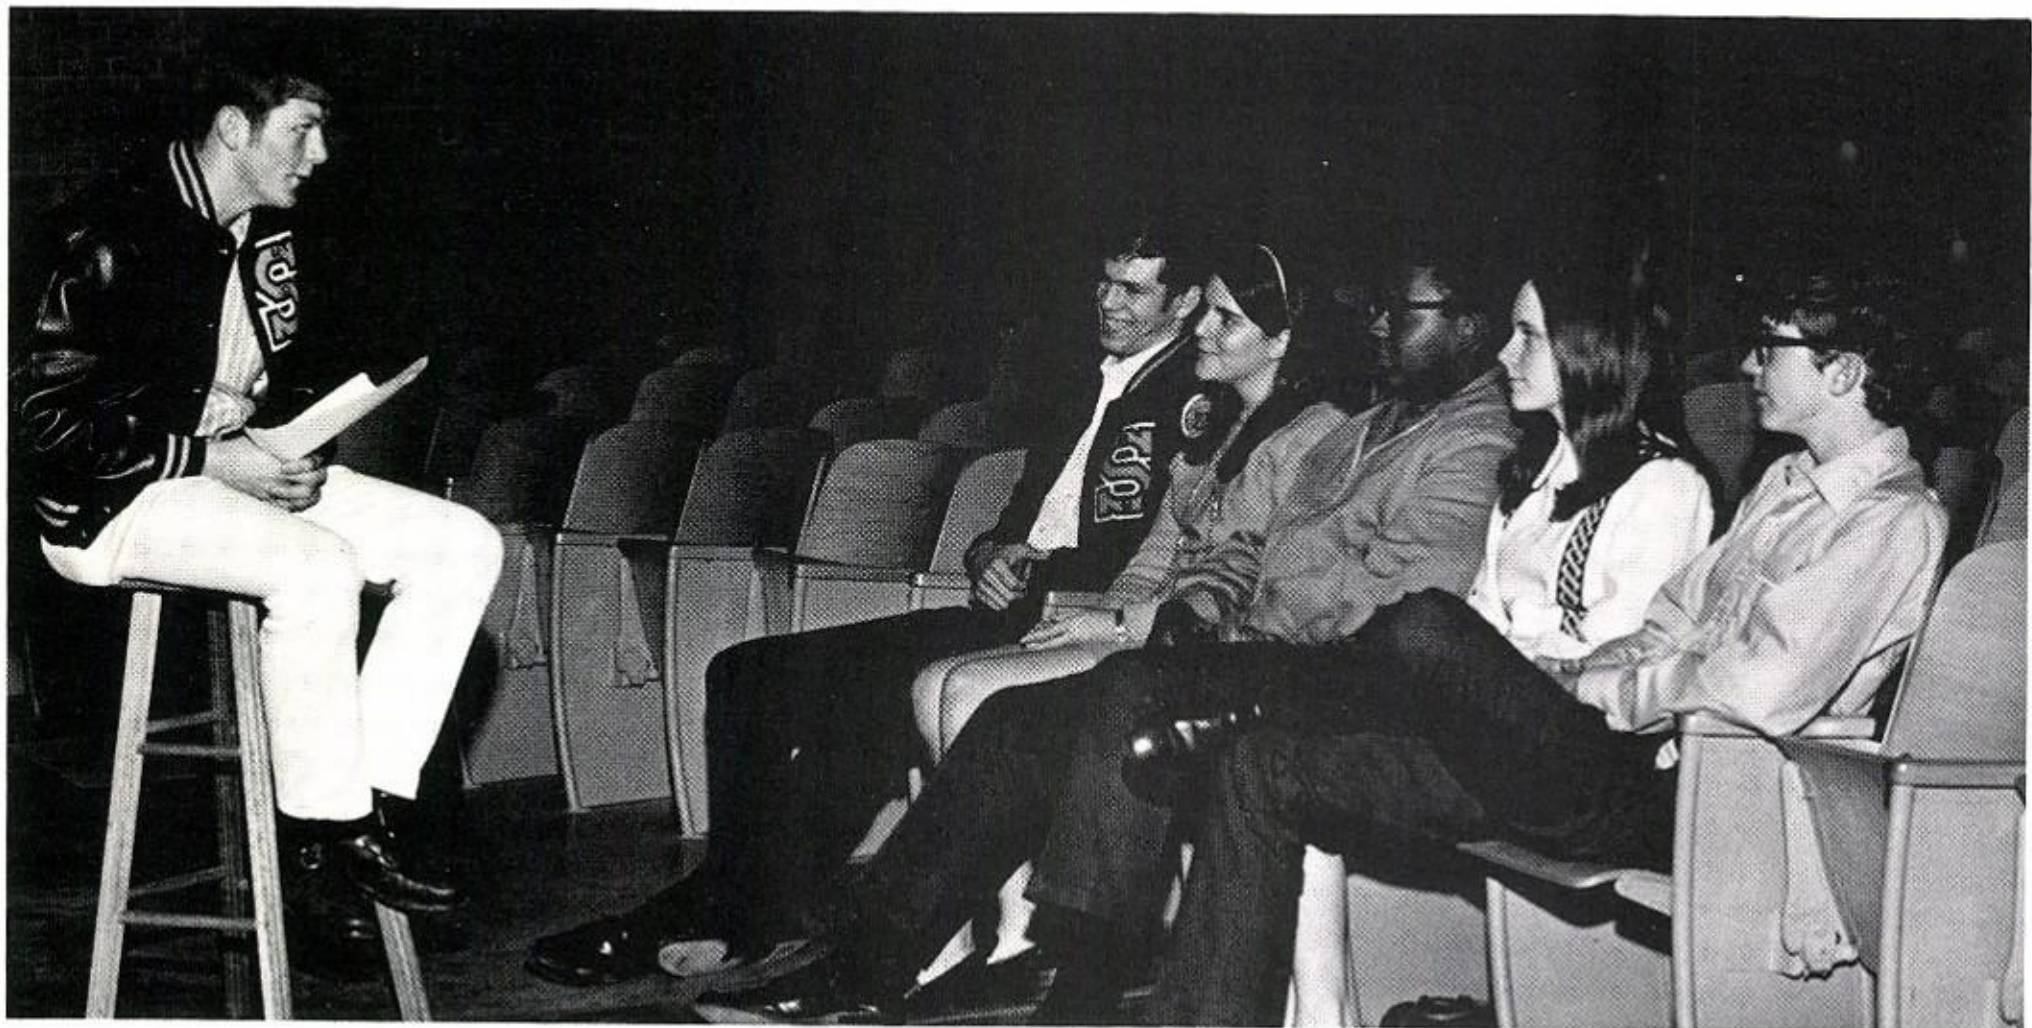

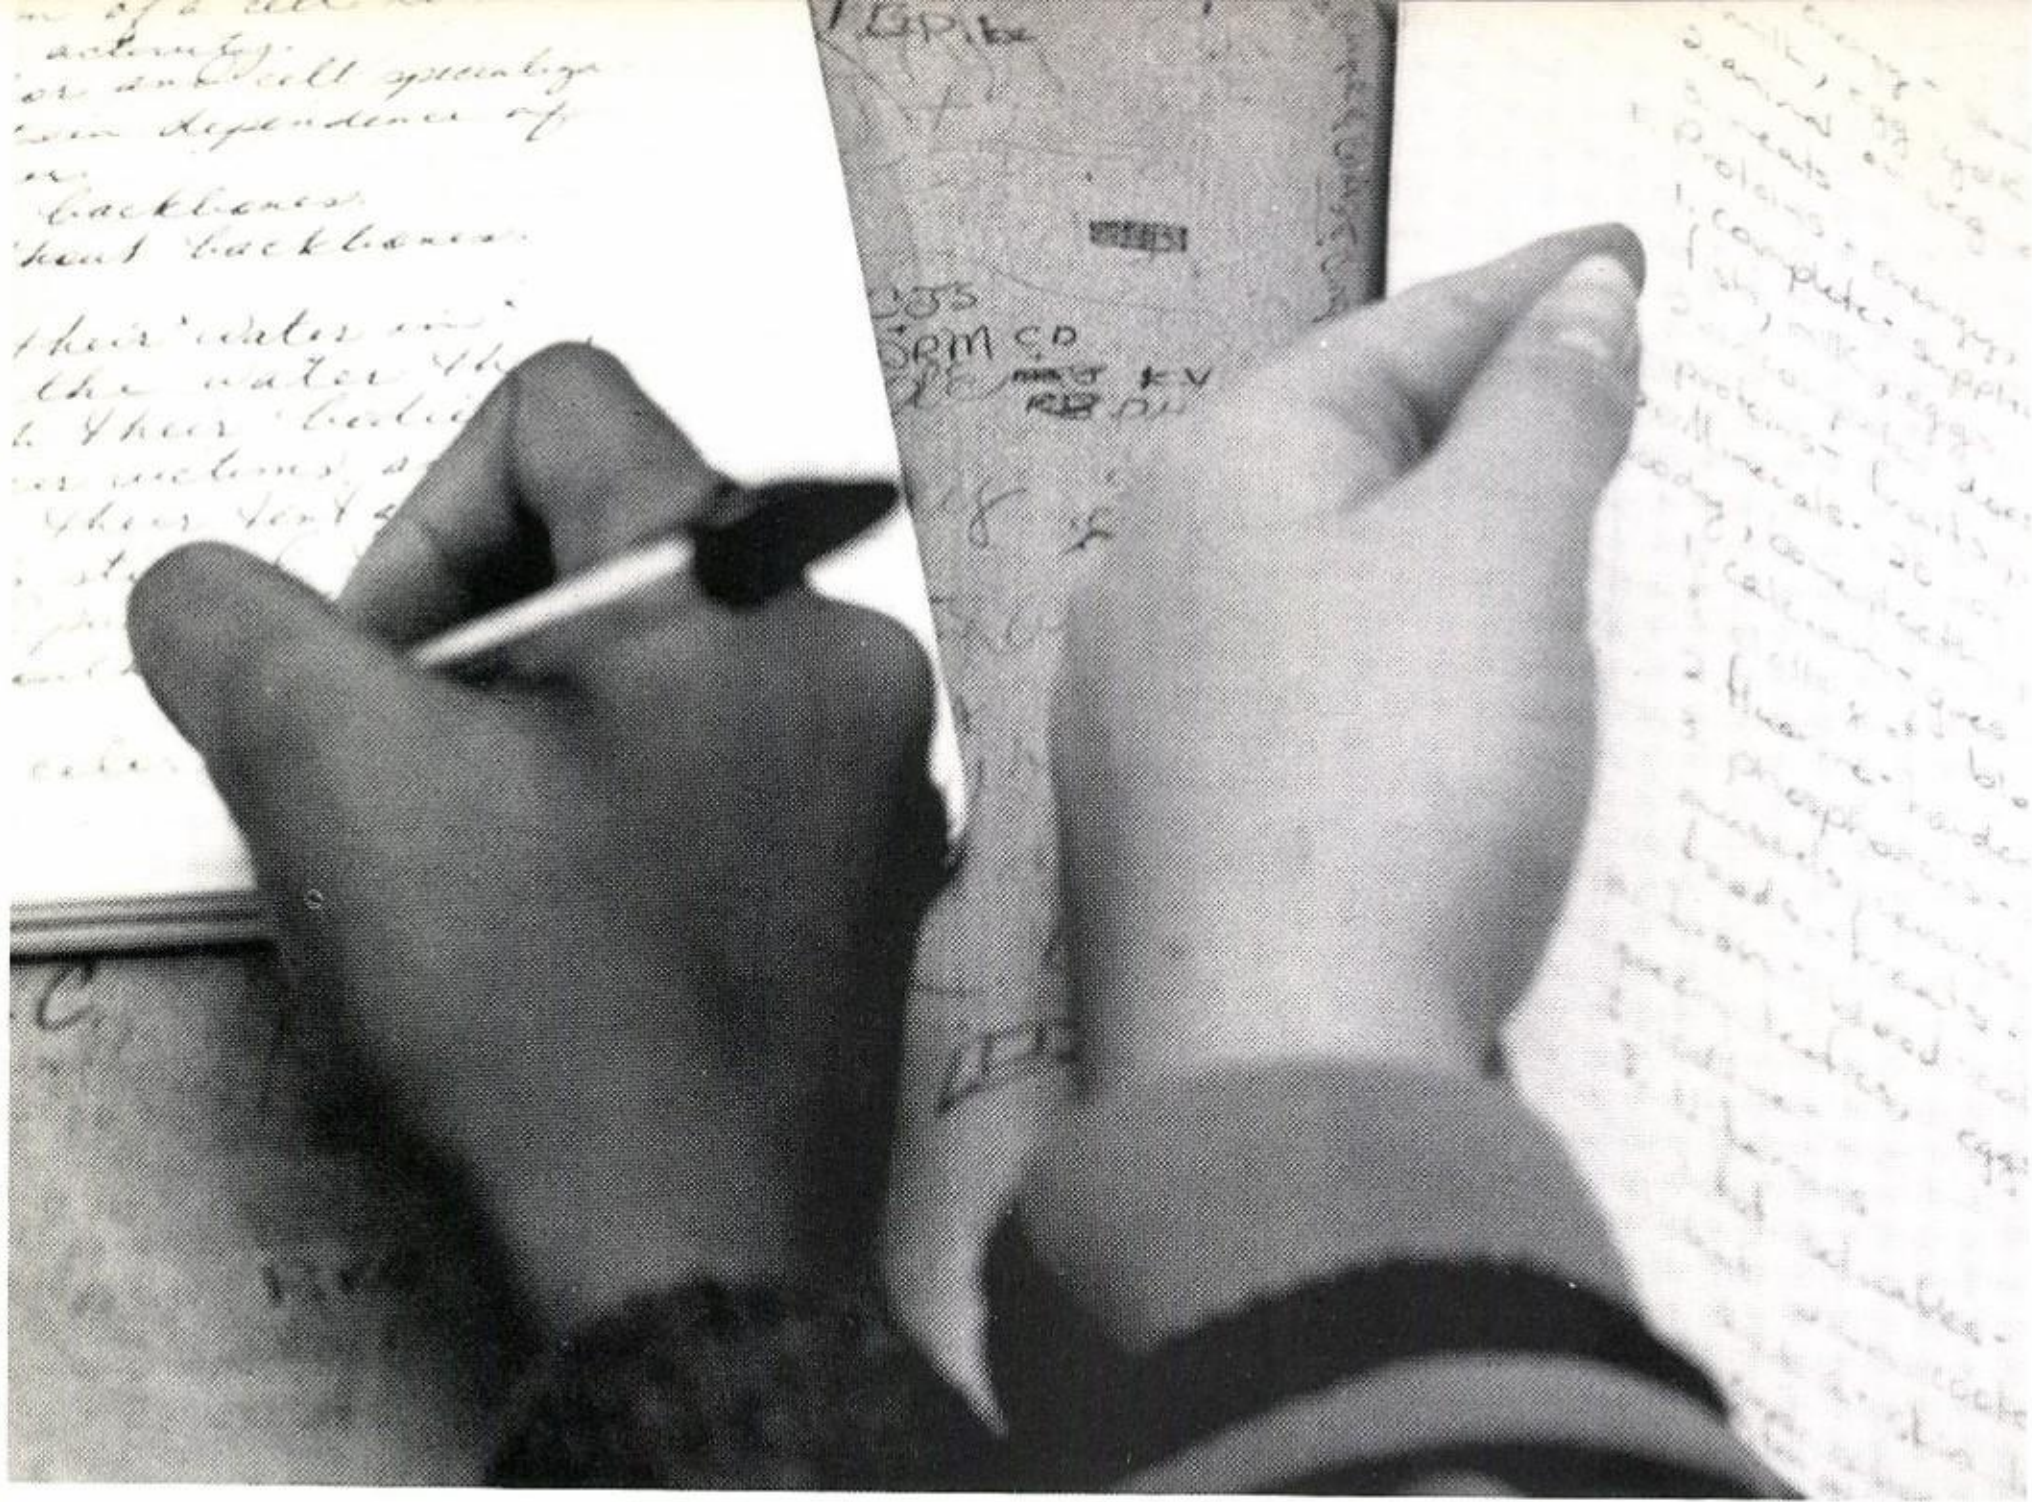

Slyly decorating each player's house the night before, the Gatoettes began Homecoming activities for 1969. After the pep rally, the N.H.S. honored the alumni with a tea.

During half-time ceremonies, as the lights went out, the band lit up the field with a large CS, and the twirler's baton glowed with fire. The Pep Squad began to march and before the Gator fans appeared a beautiful, star-spangled crown in the center of which the court was presented.

After the victory, everyone celebrated at the annual homecoming dance. Music was provided by the Penny Arcade, and all enjoyed it until twelve, when Homecoming '69 was over.

Mid-Term Change Brings New Pupils

Unlike any other school term, many changes took place this year. Because of a court ruling by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeal, the Caddo School Board submitted a plan to Judge Ben C. Dawkins concerning total desegregation of the school system. After the plan was approved, the changes were put into effect. Even though the plan caused some changing of schools in the middle of the year, everyone learned to cooperate in the new situation. Students and teachers worked together to make a continued education possible. New friendships were formed and valuable experiences were gained.

Reflections of Organization Life

Student Council's Buses Carry Gators

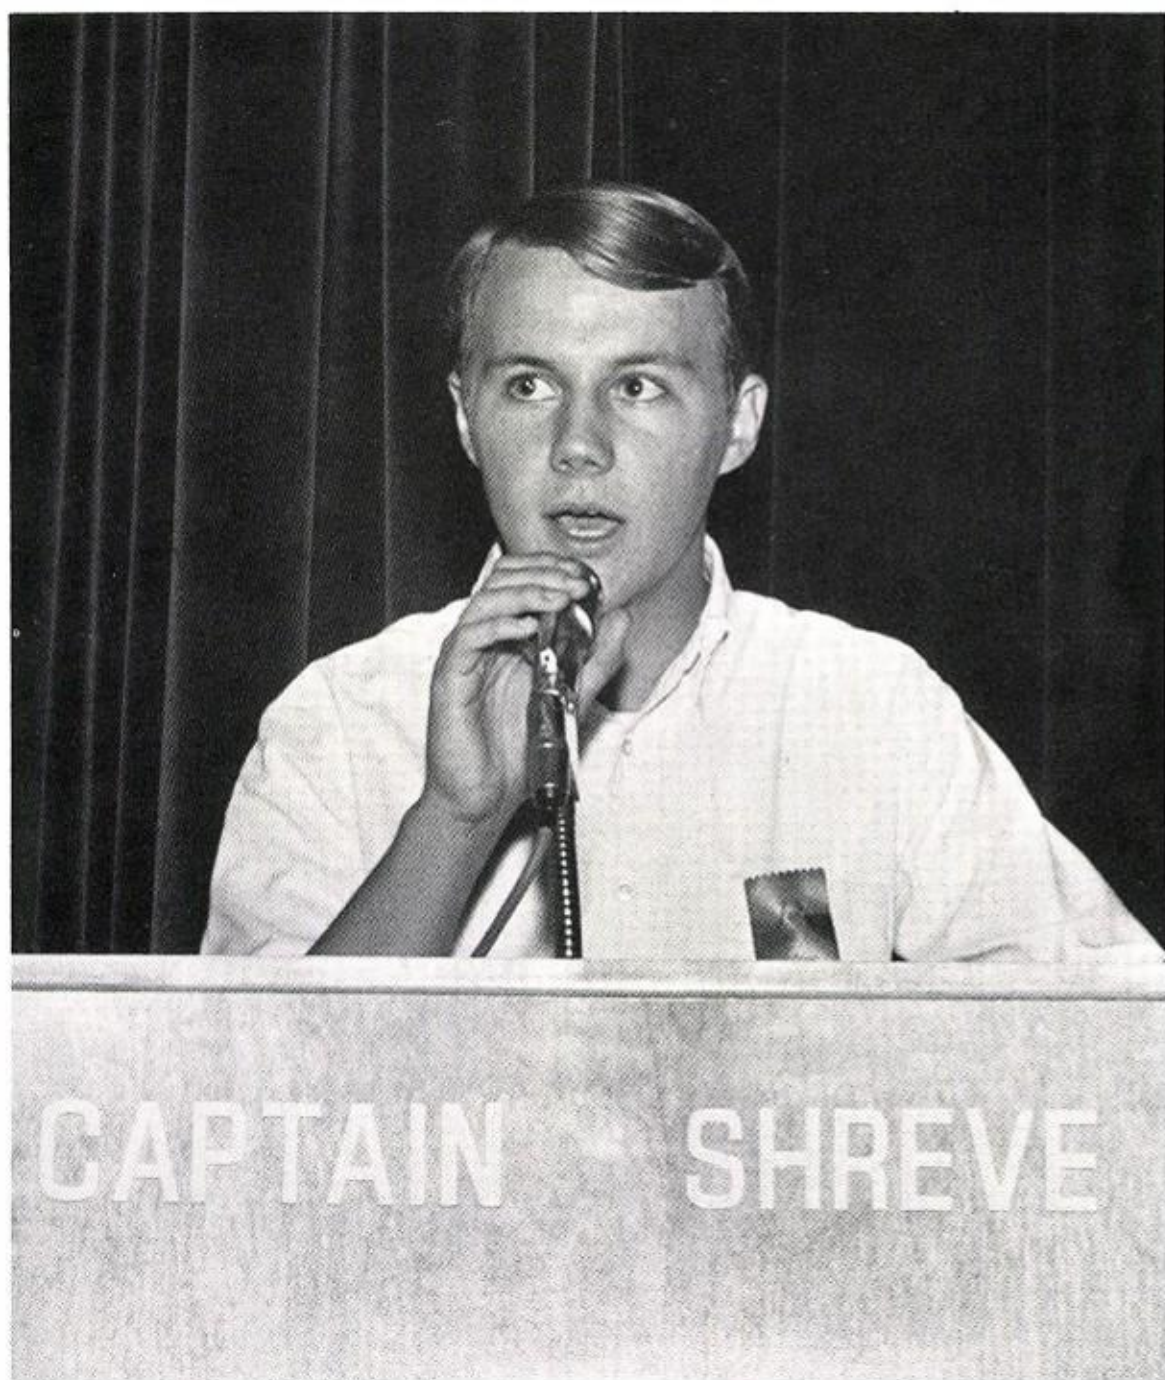

Modifying the dress rule to allow girls to wear culottes and regulating one-way traffic on the stairs are among the contributions of Student Council to everyday Gator life. Student Council involved more than a mere monthly meeting. It also included sponsoring the homecoming dance, acquiring speakers for chapel each week, selling thousands of cokes at basketball games, and selling everyday supplies at the school store.

Other small services to the student body, such as chartering buses to the Bolton game and keeping a bulletin board of students in the news, were performed by this organization.

Santa Fills Z-Club Fireside Stockings

The local project of Z Club this year was working with the mentally retarded. Club members, acting as teachers' aides, typed tests and graded papers. On Halloween, Z Clubbers gave a party at C-BARC home for the retarded. At Thanksgiving, Z Club assisted Key Club in a canned food drive for needy families. For Christmas, Z Clubbers made bean bags and stockings for children at Confederate Memorial Hospital.

Consisting of girls who wish to serve others, Z Club requires each member to devote 30 hours a year to service projects. Besides the aforementioned services, the girls also write to servicemen in Vietnam.

Key Club Delivers Foods to Needy

A Halloween party held for retarded children at Holy Angels School was one of many service projects which the Key Club performed this year. In conjunction with Z Club, Key Club held a Thanksgiving canned food drive for needy families. Also during the year members took food to the home for the aged. Among other projects in which Key Club participated were the Walk for Fund and selling poppies for Veteran's Day.

Consisting of boys who devote their time and service to helping others, Key Club participated in various group activities during the year. One Sunday in October club members attended church together.

Interact Publishes Student Directory

Climaxing a year of service to Captain Shreve and the community, Interact hosted the District Convention on April 10-11. During the year the members and sponsors served the school by directing traffic and selling programs at football games and by publishing the student directory in early November.

Teachers had a chance to show their basketball or cheering skill in January when Interact hosted the student-faculty game. Participation in community affairs involved the March of Dimes dance, the collection of money for muscular dystrophy, the Walk for Fund, and the sale of poppies for disabled veterans.

Historical Society Sponsors Banquet

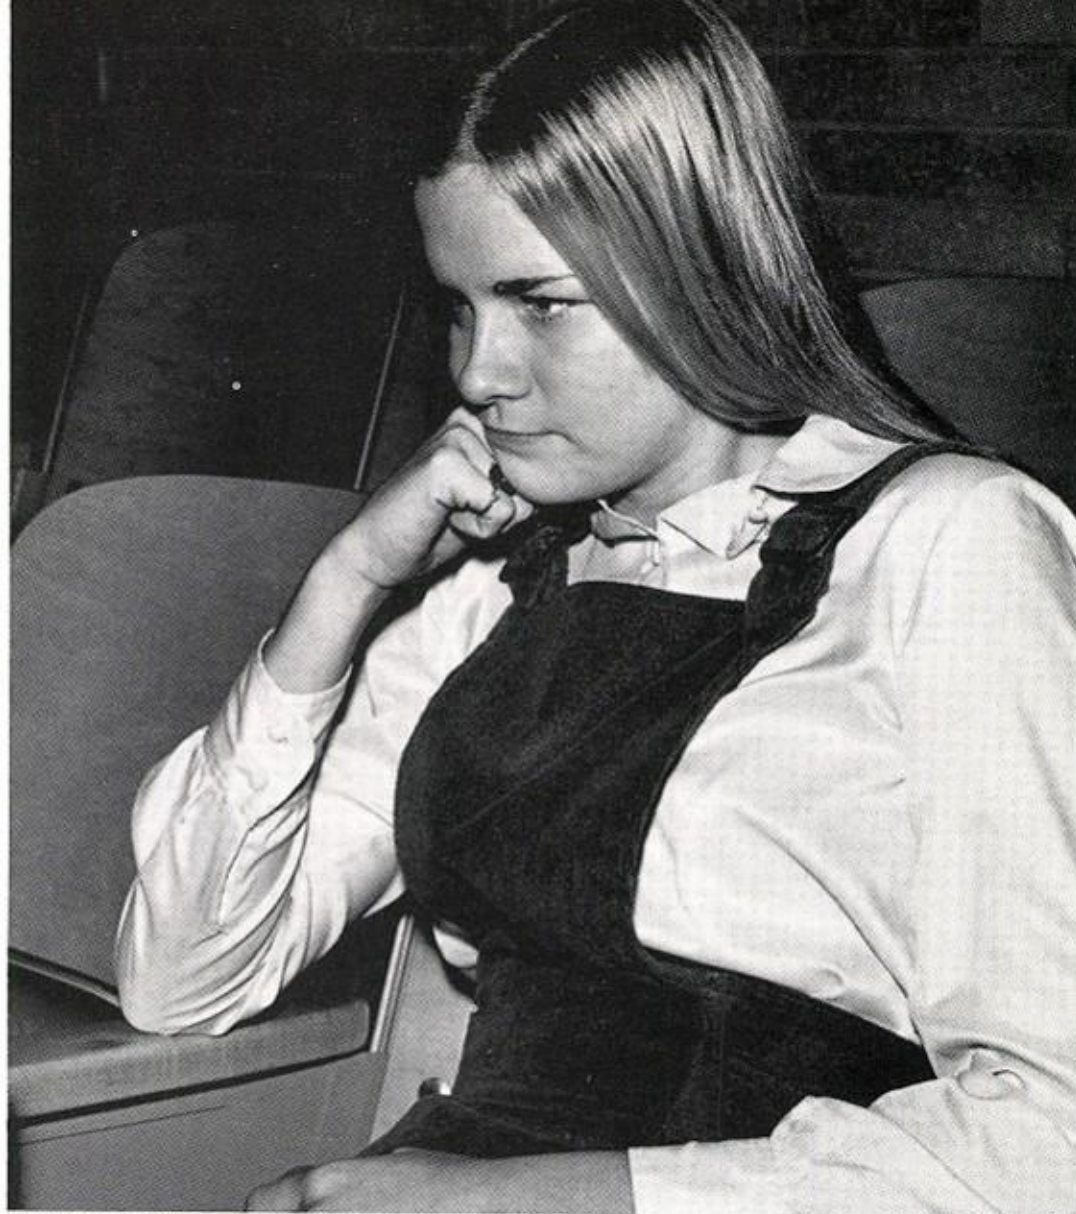

Brocato's was the setting of a banquet held by the Captain Shreve Historical Society on December 9, 1969. The club heard a speech by guest speaker, Miss Irma Robinson, who teaches Latin at Byrd High School. She showed slides of ruins in historical Greece.

The history club met on the second Monday of each month to plan various activities for the year. During the spring members took a field trip to Jefferson, Texas and Natchitoches, Louisiana to visit old homes and other historical sites. As a service project the Historical Society sponsored a sophomore assembly.

Drama Club Visits the Barn Theater

Spending an afternoon at the Barn Dinner Playhouse is considered a treat by anyone, including the Drama Club. Club members saw the murder-comedy Catch Me If You Can on Sunday, November 16. They participated in Little Theater work by devoting Saturday afternoons serving as stagehands and by attending plays at the theater.

Speakers about different topics and views of drama were the highlight of many of the meetings. One project of the club this year was to join National Thespians, an organization which rewards those who devote extra time and effort to the furthering of dramatics.

JML Gives Hours In Local Hospital

To many members of the Junior Medical League blue and white striped uniforms symbolized the gratifying work they performed this year. These students gave up many hours to participate in a volunteer program in local hospitals.

The newly formed JML chapter at Captain Shreve was very active. Members assisted the March of Dimes by serving as ushers at a meeting on December 8. At many meetings members heard guest speakers including a talk by a local psychiatrist, Dr. William Kimball. To celebrate Christmas the Junior Medical League held a Christmas party at Peyton Kelley's home on December 17.

Physics Students Show Experiments

Performing physics experiments in an assembly for other students at school was just one of many activities in which the Physics Club took part during its charter year. In December, members of the club went on a field trip to Pennzoil United Research Laboratory, where they observed equipment and listened to explanations of the various experiments.

Sponsored by Mr. Mac Griffith, the Physics Club was formed this year to help further the students' understanding of physics as it is applied to their lives. Working closely with the students, Mr. Griffith helps explain difficult material.

French Club Gives Plays at Meetings

Dressed in typical French costumes, French II, III, and IV students displayed their talents in the play, L'AVOCAT PATLIN. They presented it for the French Club at a meeting October 14.

This year's club was very active, participating in activities such as the Winter Festival and the Mardi Gras celebration. One of the main events of the year was the language festival held in Lafayette, where French Club members competed with French students from throughout the state. Culminating the year was the annual French club banquet held in conjunction with the French I Club. At this time members displayed their talents for other members.

French I Students Organize New Club

This year French I students organized their own club in conjunction with the other French Club. The club met monthly to learn more about French through speakers and movies. Members saw films taken in France on the American Institute of Foreign Study trip to promote travel abroad.

A Christmas party and program was held by the club on December 2. Together with the other French club they had a banquet on April 7 to climax the year. Entertainment was provided by club members and a guest speaker. Mr. Ortigo, club sponsor, presented awards to outstanding members at the end of the year.

Latin Club Sells Gator Book Covers

Latin students from throughout the state gathered at Captain Shreve this year when the Latin Club hosted the State Latin Convention. Members spent many hours planning the agenda which included the Olympics and a dance. The JCL was also active in national work. Dennis Webb was elected national president and Chris Tully, national delegate.

Familiar to Captain Shreve students were the Gator book covers which Latin Club members sold again this year. They also took orders for homecoming corsages for the second year. The money they raised was used to pay for club projects.

Latin Club Hosts State Convention

Shreveport Mayor Fant and Captain Shreve Principal Stanley Powell welcomed the delegates from JCL chapters representing the entire state. Wayne Lee from Archbishop Rummel in New Orleans presided over the first session. Thus began three days of work giving each student a chance to better JCL and also enjoy themselves.

Workshops and seminars on finance, editors and reporters, Latin Week, and National Convention furnished those present with tips to take back to their own clubs. On Saturday afternoon, Olympics tested abilities in relays and chariot races, and a dance that evening rounded out the day's activities.

German Club Contributes Native Cuisine

Sauerkraut, gingerbread men, sausage, and wiener schnitzel, all representative foods of Germany, were brought by German Club members to the Inter-Language Club banquet on December 18. Each foreign language club contributed foods common to their particular foreign country and presented a skit on its Christmas customs. Earlier in the year, Herr Meyer, a German exchange student who teaches school in Germany, spoke to the club.

Meetings were held twice a month, sometimes at school, other times at member's houses. Much time was spent forming committees and drafting a constitution.

Car Club Members See Police on Job

After seeing a high school student in a state patrolman's car, the normal reaction is to wonder what type of trouble he is in. However, if it is a Captain Shreve student, there may be another reason: he may be a member of the Automotive Association. A few members of this new club rode with patrolmen on their routes in order to observe traffic rules and the duties of policemen.

Mr. Yopp, the sponsor, also tried the economy run, using various students' cars. C.S.A.A. was an experimental group tried at Captain Shreve this year. Only a few other schools are offered this chance to study cars and safety.

Spanish Clubbers Celebrate Fiesta

To enhance the Christmas season, the Spanish Club celebrated the occasion with a Fiesta de Navidad. In November Mrs. A. Smith, who spoke on customs in present day Spain, addressed the club. Selected club members attended the Foreign Language Festival at the University of Southwestern Louisiana. Highlighting the year was a banquet held at Pancho's Restaurant.

Sponsored by Mrs. Judy Dunn, the Spanish Club consists of Spanish students who wish to further their knowledge of Spanish culture. During the football season, the club promoted school spirit by making banners and holding a pep rally before school.

Cafeteria Workers Serve School Meal

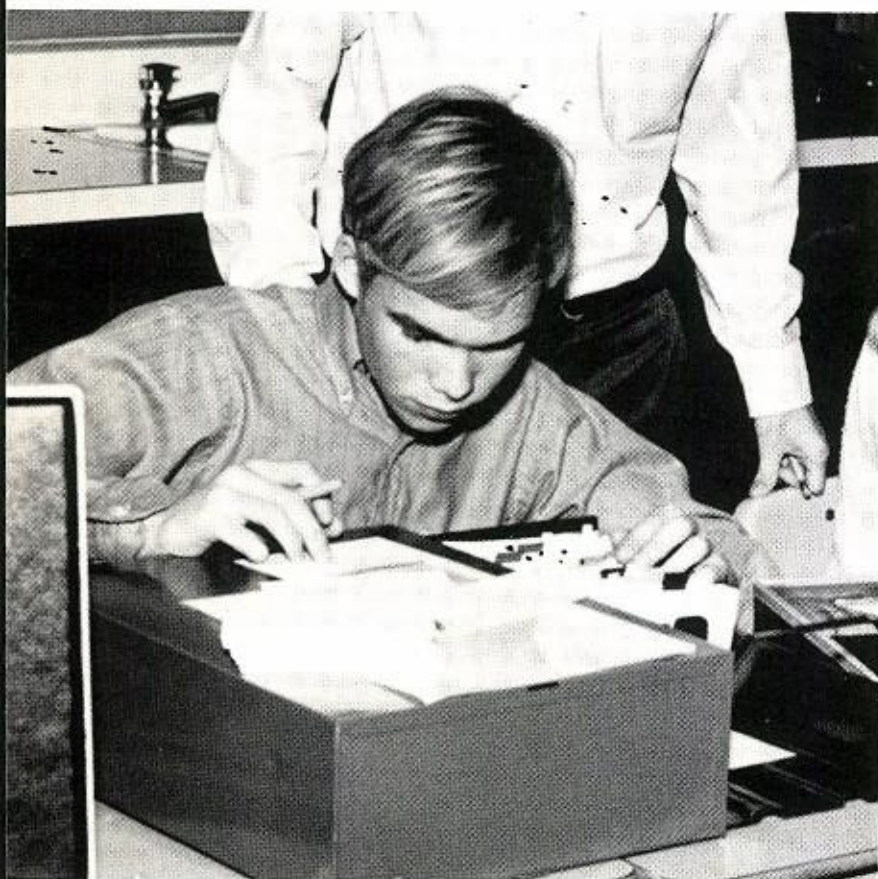

Each day the cafeteria workers, under the supervision of Mrs. Kathleen Johnson, help to keep the cafeteria clean. Included in the various duties performed by these student workers are serving bread and desserts, placing clean silver in containers, and keeping the milk boxes loaded. The services these workers render to the school are invaluable.

Some other jobs of the workers include removing silver and trays from the conveyor belt, stacking dishes from the dish machine and placing them on the serving counters, stacking trays and placing them in the tray dispenser, and racking the dishes for the dishwashing machines.

The thirty-eight members of this year's debate team were very successful in tournaments they attended in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi. On October 17-18 they won sweepstakes at the Woodlawn Tournament. At the Bellaire Tournament, which is the longest tournament in the world, Captain Shreve debaters placed first in two events.

Two members of the team, Sara Ruffin and Susie Gates, presented a one act play for Captain Shreve students. They entered the play at USL Tournament and won first place. The debate team won an overall second place in the event.

During education week the Future Teachers of America declared a teacher appreciation day. They presented each teacher with a green and gold flower representing growth in education.

These students who are interested in the teaching profession have participated in varied activities during the school year. They served the school by acting as guides at the first PTA meeting on October 6. Along with many other clubs, the Future Teachers operated a booth at the ROTC Spaghetti Supper. FBLA Sells Green and Gold Pennant

Green and gold Gator pennants became a familiar part of the scene at Captain Shreve this year. They were sold by FBLA members to raise money for club projects throughout the year.

The club was very active this year. On December 10, they took a field trip to South Central Bell Telephone Company to learn more about the operation of a business. As a part of the many services they performed, future business leaders decorated the cafeteria for a banquet during National Education Week. Members of the club were chosen from all business courses by teacher recommendation.

Also, the club took part in various activities during the year. In December, members of the Safety Council attended the safety convention in New Orleans. During March, the council held activities in observance of National Safety Week.

Consisting of thirty-one members, the Safety Council concerned itself with all areas of safety — school, home, and traffic. Through planned activities, they attempted to make others aware of the importance of all phases of safety.

Estes Park Camp Attended by FCA

Each summer in June members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, who so desire, attend an athletic camp in Estes Park, Colorado. While the boys are there they are able to work and visit with both college and professional athletes who are involved in various sports. Also while there, they benefit a great deal physically as well as spiritually.

Sponsored by Coach Tommy Powell, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes holds meetings once a month. The membership consists of Christian boys who are athletes. The purpose of FCA is to confront youth with the challenge of following Christ.

Selling cosmetics, loading boxes, unpacking merchandise, and answering the telephone are only a few of the variety of jobs performed by the forty-two members of DECA. All Distributive Education students join the club which meets to discuss good and bad aspects of the working-man's life.

Representatives from the club attended a DECA conference in Bunkie, Louisiana, during December. Then toward the end of the year, the club members journeyed to Baton Rouge for the Louisiana DECA Leadership Conference. Orchestra Adds to Christmas Season

Due to many hours of practice the Captain Shreve Orchestra became very accomplished. During the Christmas season they assisted the choir and the band in many performances. They played for administration members at a program held December 9, 1969. Members again entertained at an assembly for their parents Tuesday, December 16. At the school Christmas program the orchestra members combined their talents with the band and choir in playing holiday songs.

Members of this year's orchestra had a sincere interest in classic musical compositions. They worked industriously to re-create many great masterpieces.

Choir Performs in Spring Concert

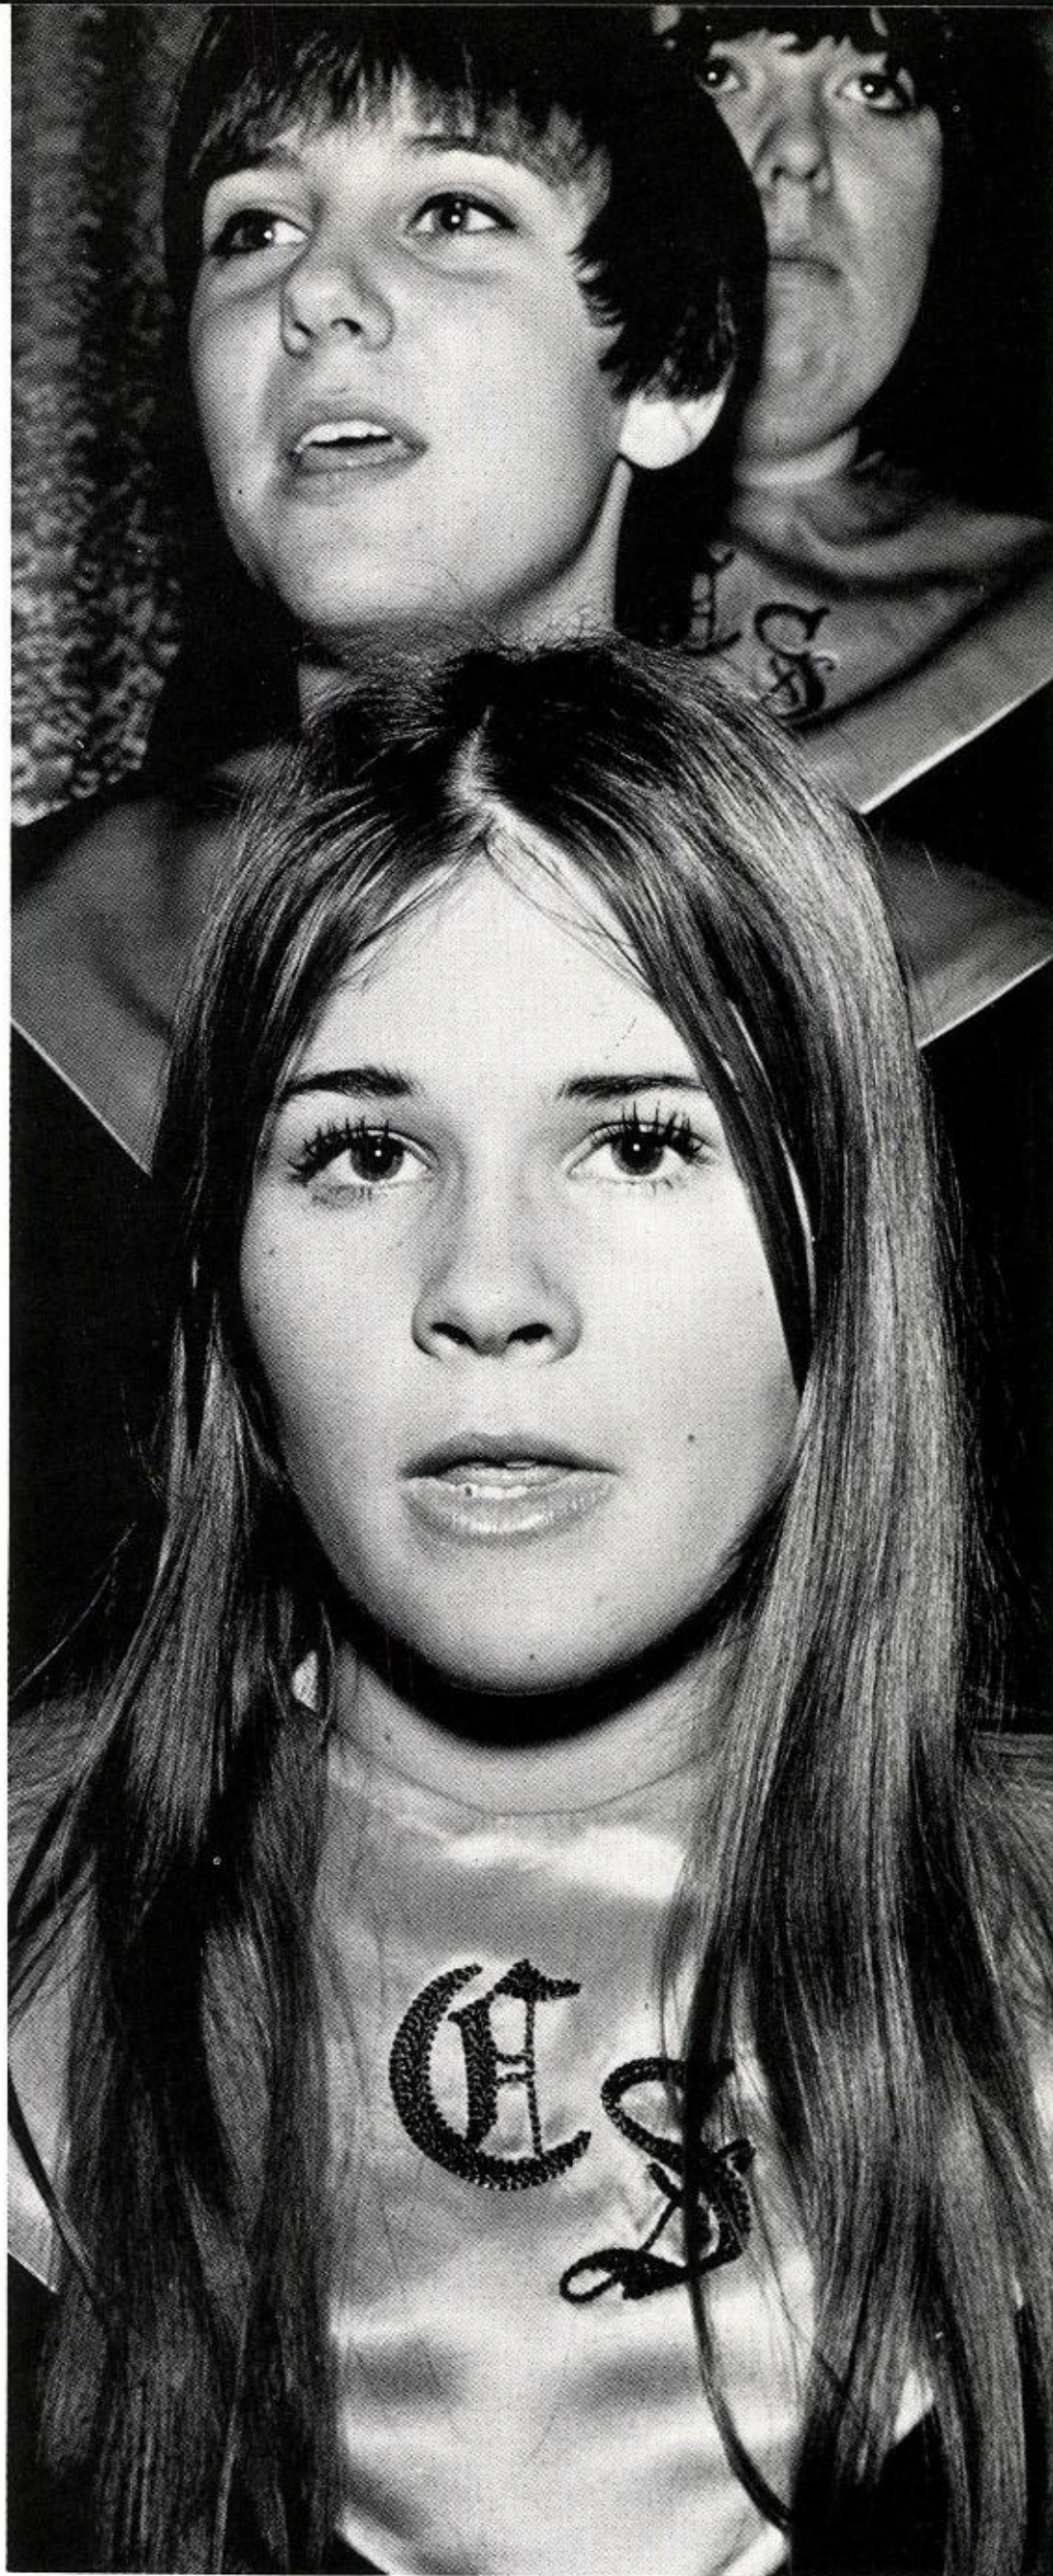

The Captain Shreve Concert Choir will long be remembered by everyone for the awe-inspiring programs which they presented during this year. The choir promoted Christmas spirit at school with their Christmas Concert, which they presented in an assembly on December 16. During April, in culmination of their hard work, the choir held a spring concert.

As a part of the year's activities, the choir participated in two music festivals held at Northwestern State College. They took part in the Solo and Ensemble Music Festival and the Choir Music Festival, in February and March respectively.

Flaming Batons Twirled at Game

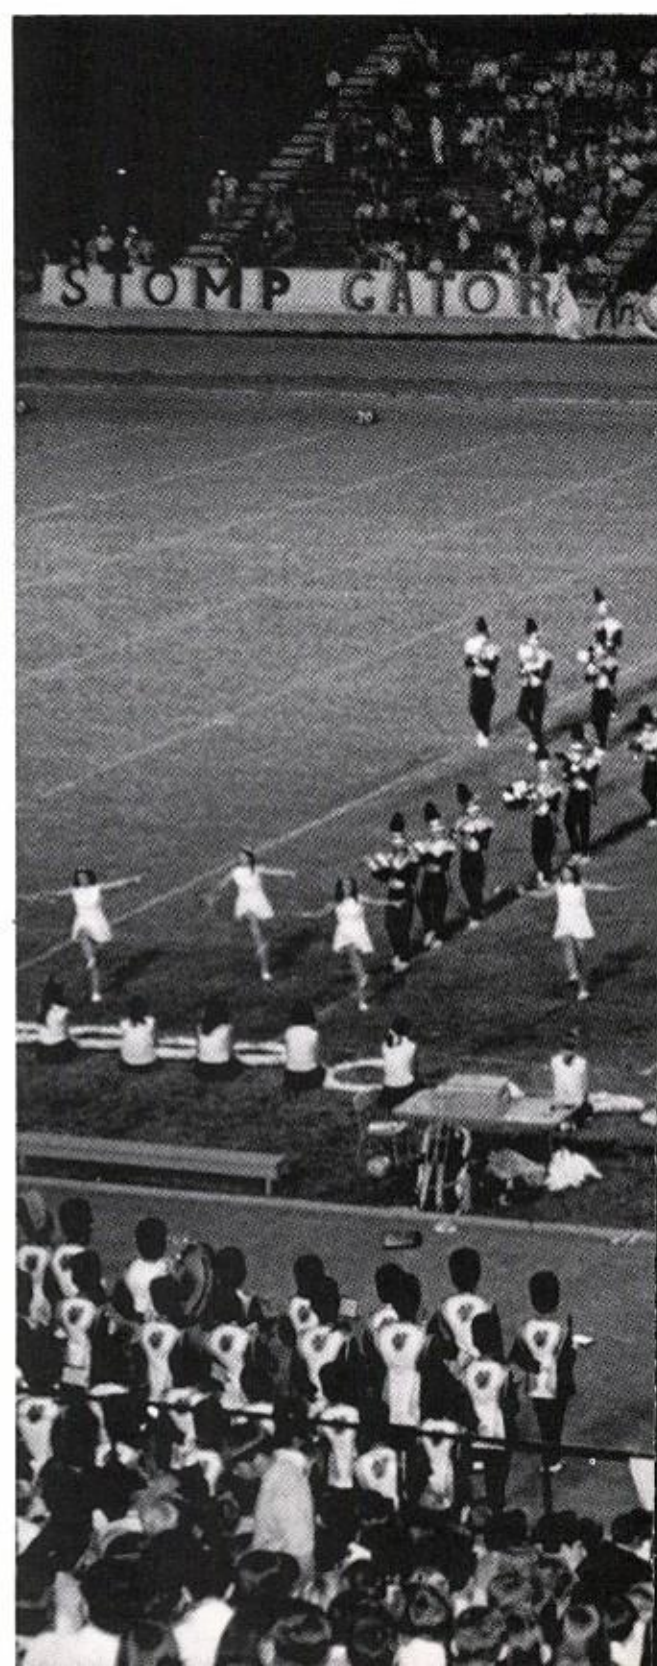

Flaming batons, flashlights, and intricate routines highlighted this year for band members as they performed at Homecoming and the Byrd game. Members, led by Jeanette Arnold, gave many hours of hard work to master such new tunes as Aquarius and Spooky. However, not only did they learn new songs, they also learned to march into such patterns as a clock, a face, a Halloween hat, a "C.S.," and a flag.

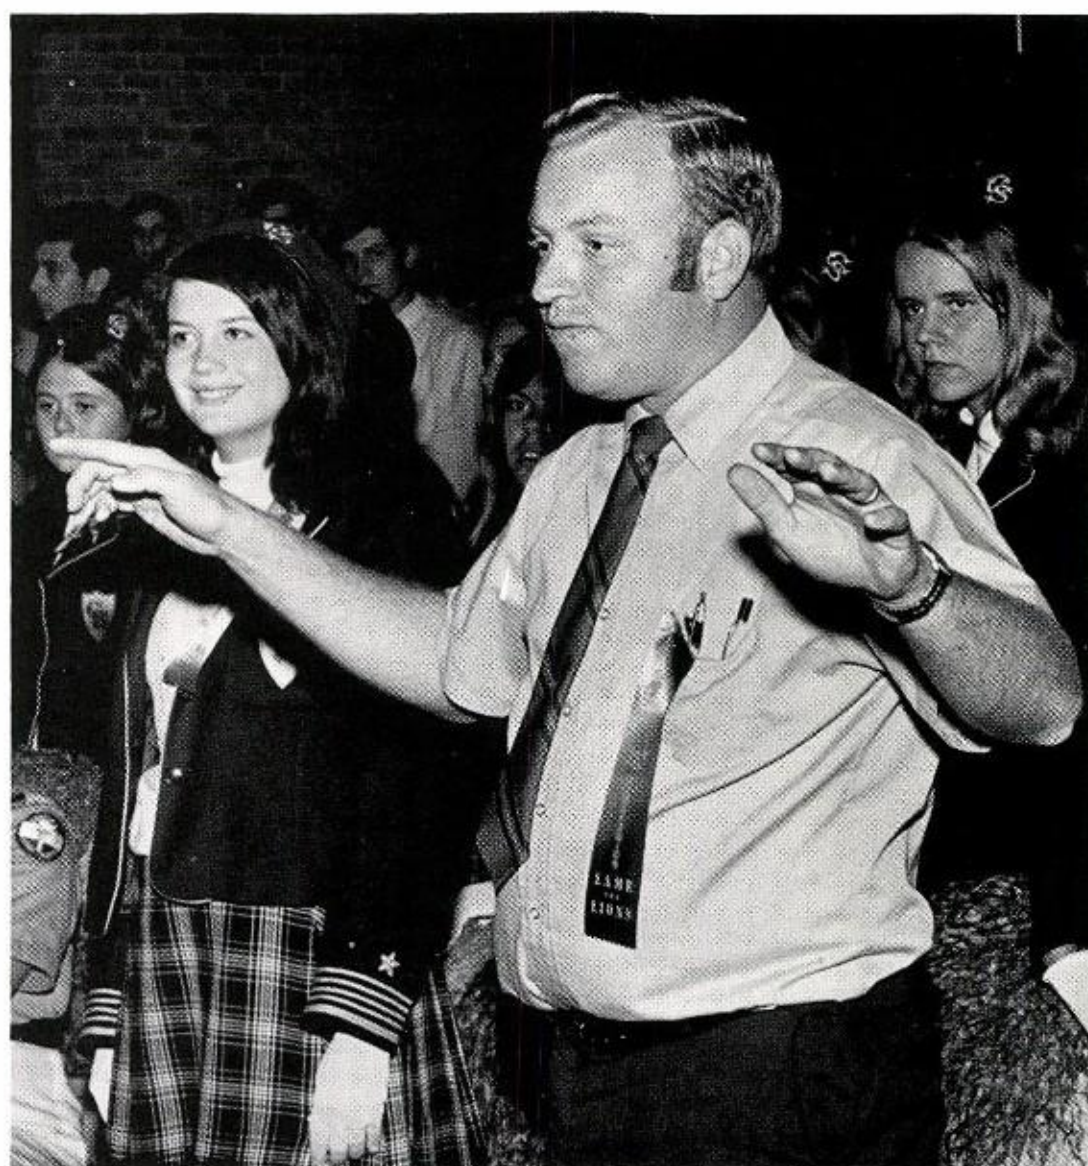

Perhaps the most exciting part of the band's performance this year was that of Georgia Berridge who twirled flaming batons at several half-times. The band was also seen at every pep rally playing the National Anthem and Alma Mater.

Enterprise Edits Gator Newspaper

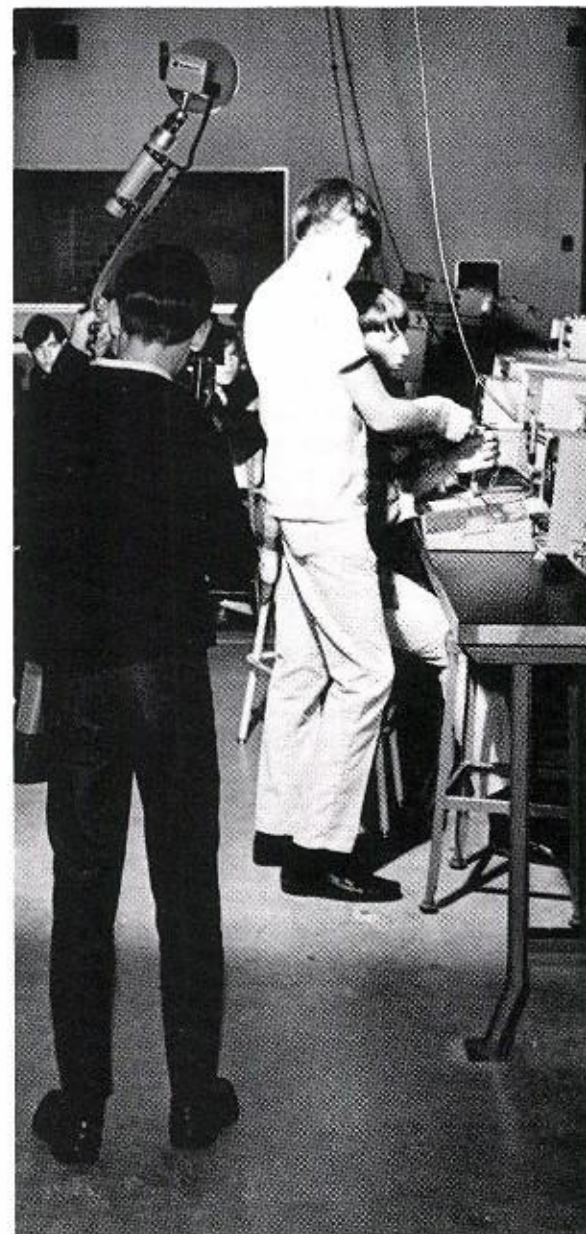

Captain Shreve students eagerly awaited the coming of the Enterprise each month. Under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Lawson, the students covered areas including news reports, sports stories, and human interest stories. Besides circulating newspapers within Captain Shreve, the Enterprise exchanges newspapers with about 25 other high schools.

The staff is composed of students who desire to make the Enterprise an outstanding publication. Among the activities involved in organizing each issue of the paper are writing copy, typing, and making layouts.

Advertising Staff Sells 1,053 Inches

The ENTERPRISE Ad Staff began working early in the summer selling ads to make it possible for the school newspaper to be published each month. The eighteen girls who composed the staff spent many hours contacting local businesses to ask them to buy ads. They sold a total of 1,053 inches of advertisement.

Many of the members gave up their study halls to work on the staff billing advertisers and laying out the ad section for each issue of the ENTERPRISE. As a reward for the hard work of the ad staff, Mrs. Loretta Gilliam, sponsor, took the group on a trip to Dallas along with the Football Ad Staff.

Workers Re-shelve Books for Students

Re-shelving books and checking people in and out of the library were two jobs performed by library workers this year. These students aided both the students and librarians through their invaluable service in the library.

They gave up their study halls all year to learn more about the library through hard work. Library workers kept the library in good order for the students and were always on hand to help someone find a book. These students were familiar with every section of the library and all the information available. Library Club members made it possible for the library to be an efficient part of Captain Shreve.

Football Ad Staff Tours Dallas Fair

Traveling to the Dallas State Fair was the reward of the twenty-nine hard-working girls who composed the Football Program Ad Staff. The girls sold ads all summer in order to meet a one hundred dollar minimum sales goal allotted to each of them. Much time, energy, and gasoline was put into the effort.

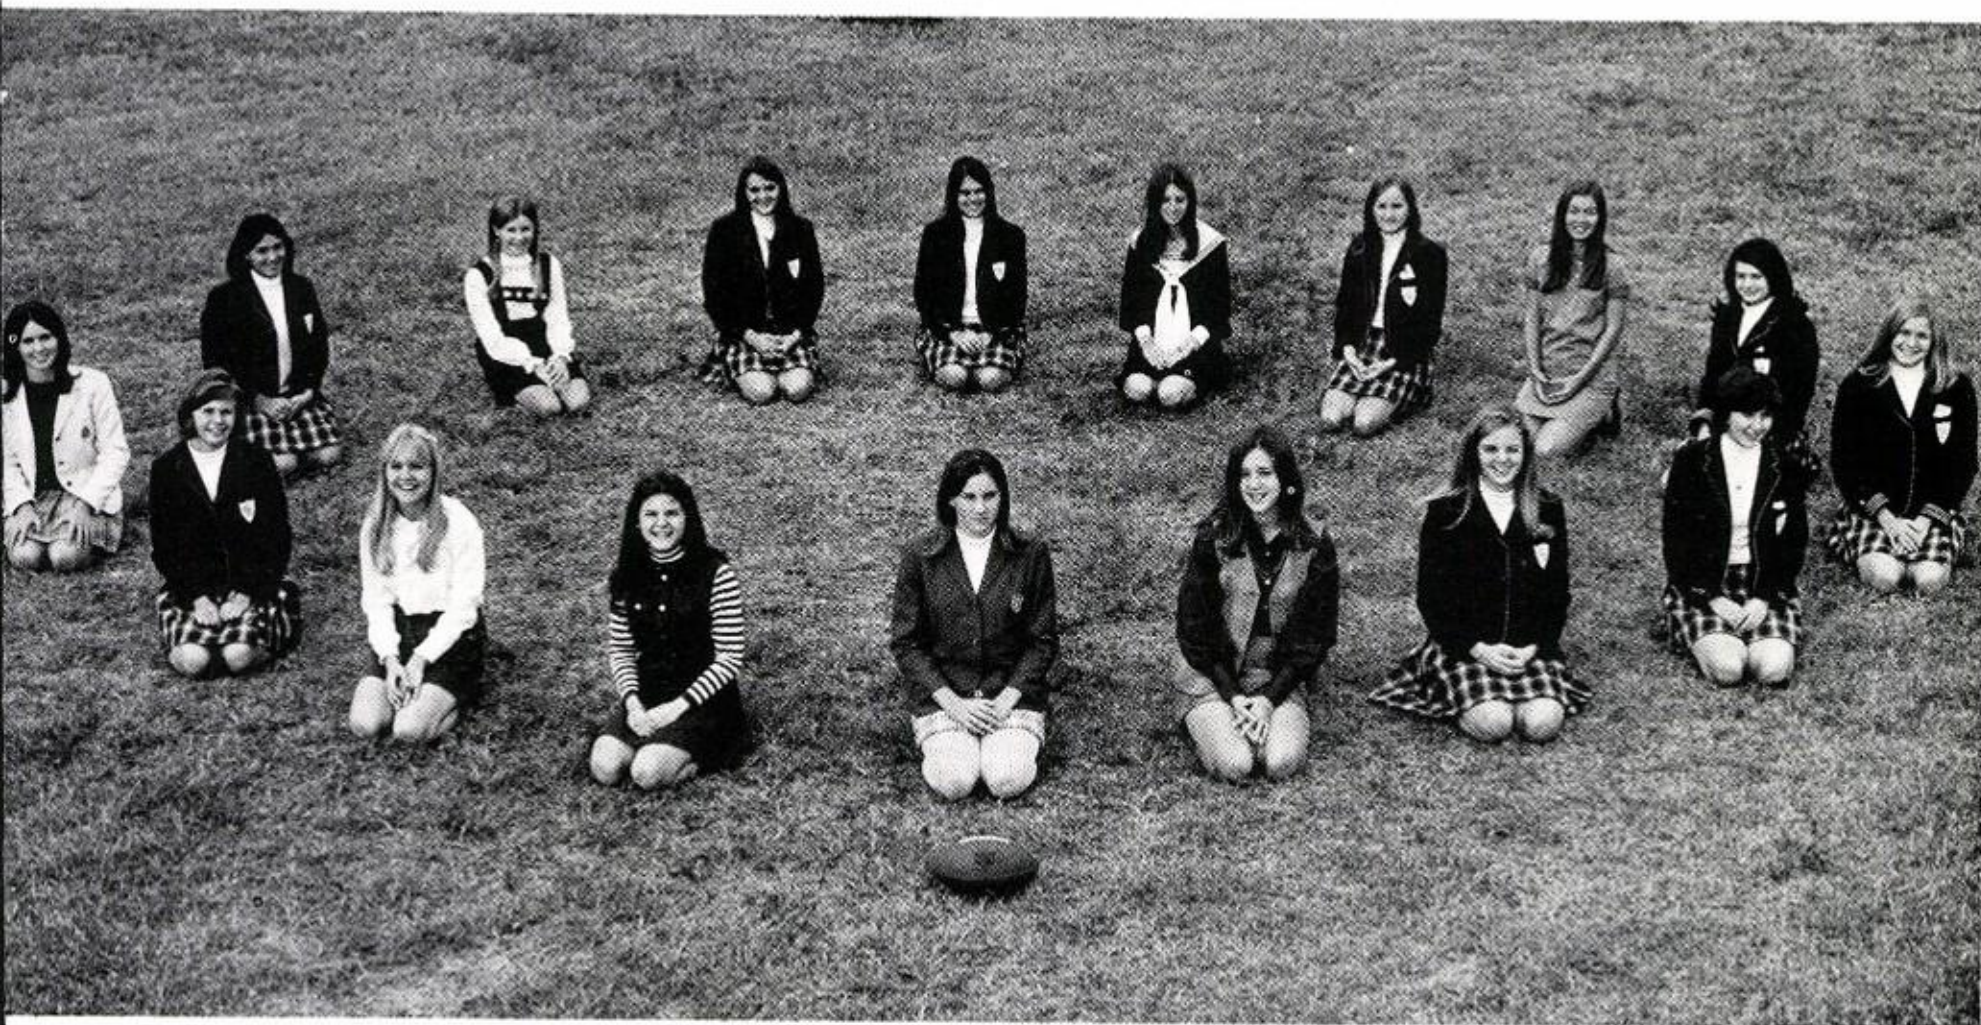

After school started, many of the girls devoted their study halls to ad staff work and took care of the billing, layouts, and other jobs. Their final duty was to sell the football programs at home football games. A special homecoming insert honoring members of the Court was printed and sold at school prior to the game.

Two Staffs Capture Memories in LOG

Meeting deadlines, writing copy, and planning pictures were the duties that plagued the LOG staff this year. The fourteen members of the staff put in many hours to capture each event of the year in one book. Their job was to make for the students a collection of the happenings of the year to be kept and remembered forever.

The editorial staff would not have been able to publish a book without the assistance of the advertising staff. They sold ads to various local businesses to raise money. They also took care of the sale and distribution of the yearbooks. Through these combined efforts this yearbook was made possible.

Gator Rifle Team a Place of Honor

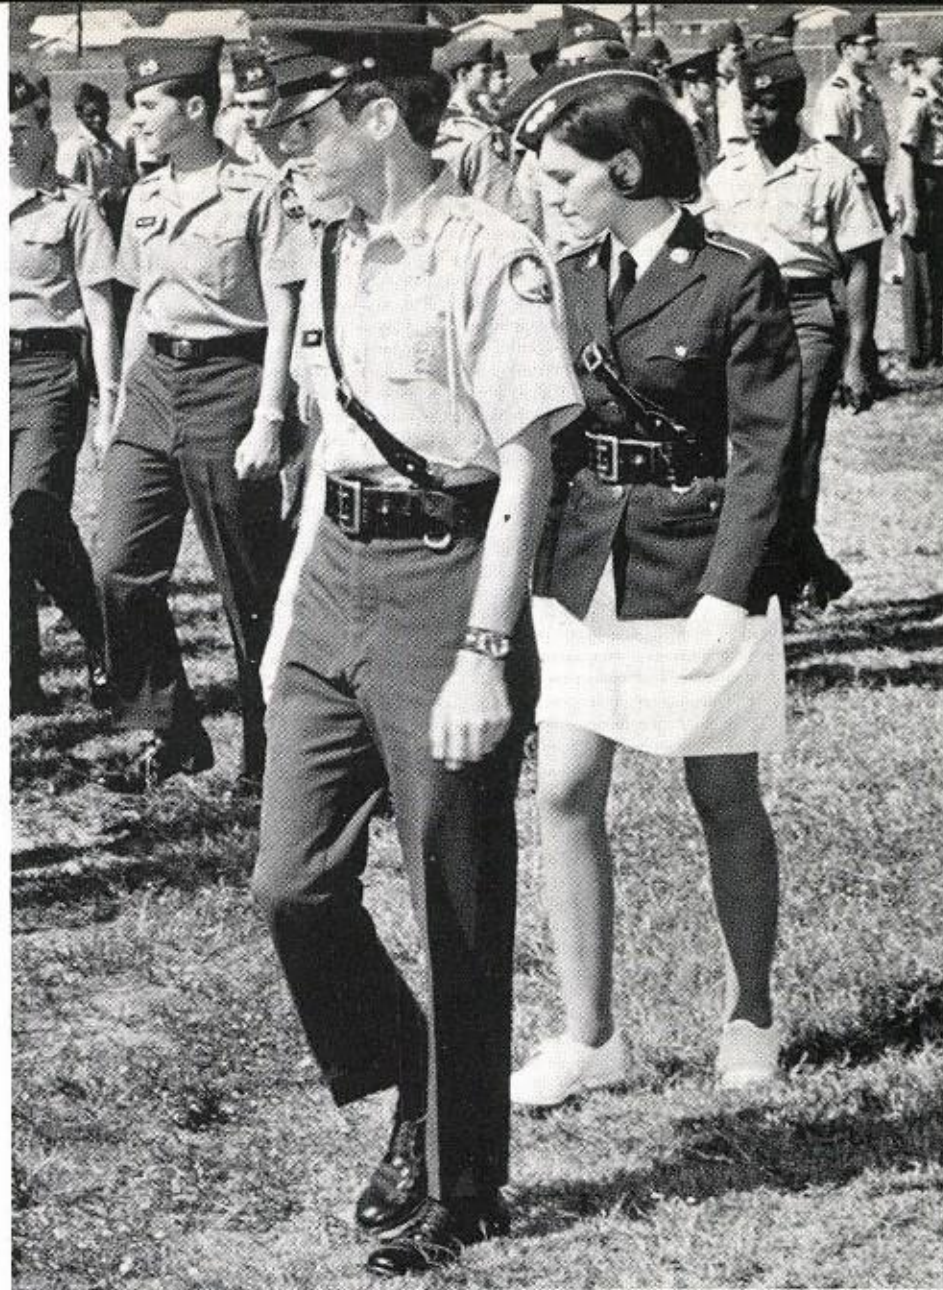

Mastering the use of firearms was the ambition of the Gator Rifle Teams. They were selected for firing ability, sense of responsibility, and long hours of individual practice. Rifle teams perform in competition with many schools.

Twelve sponsors were chosen by the cadets this year. Their duties were to establish and maintain battalion, company, and individual records, perform administrative and typing duties, march in parades, and fire indoor rifle range weapons. Along with their cadet officer sponsors they performed for school and off-campus activities. This position in ROTC is honorary.

Honor Guard, Band Necessary to ROTC

The Honor Color Guard presented the colors at school functions and civic activities. Daily they made sure that the flag at the front of the school was raised and lowered. At each home football game the ROTC Color Guard presented the colors prior to the game. A position in this group is one of honor.

Each division of the ROTC had a duty this year. The Cadet Battalion Commander and his staff performed the task of organizing and leading the entire battalion. The ROTC Band spent many hours in the mastery of their instruments. They were commanded by Bill Willis and directed by Mr. Bill Causey. They performed at many functions during the year.

LOG Staff Awards Mr.; Miss CSHS

Every year the LOG Staff chooses one boy and one girl from the senior class to be Mr. and Miss Captain Shreve. These people are active, hard-working, and enthusiastic Gator supporters who have not been recognized for their work while at Captain Shreve. They are both synonymous with what the typical Captain Shreve student is.

Martha Colquitt and Rick Robertson were elected by the LOG Staff as Mr. and Miss Captain Shreve High School for 1970. Martha is admiral of the Gatorettes, secretary of the National Honor Society, and senator of the Student Council. Rick has been very outstanding as a member of the basketball team and FCA.

Sabers Salute Queen and Court

Reigning over the 1969 Homecoming ceremony was senior Amy Peninger. She was chosen from among senior girls nominated by the student body. Her court included senior maids Becky Jorden and Martha Colquitt, junior maids Carol Tucker and Mary Ann Messina, and sophomore maids Kimbi Berlin and Patti Jorden.

The homecoming ceremonies featured the traditional formation of the crown by the Gatorettes, music by the band, and an arch of sabers by the R.O.T.C. Escorts for the court from the Senior Class of 1969 included: Tommy Arceneaux, Don Ashley, Gordon Boogaerts, Rob Hallquist, Richard McKenzie, Doug Smith, and Dick Williams.

Students Nominate

An honor bestowed by each class, the favorites are chosen from nominations placed by every student. Each individual student placed a nomination for one boy and one girl from his class. The top five nominations were then put before the students for a final vote. The end result was six favorites representing the enthusiastic, well-liked Captain Shreve student.

This year Denny Duron and Amy Peninger were chosen as favorites of the Senior Class of 1970. Junior favorites included Randy Lyle and Jackie Farmer. The sophomore class elected as their representatives Bodie Summers and Patti Jorden.

Seniors Compete in N.H.S. Contest

Beginning this year, students competing for National Honor Society scholarships were chosen not only for their high grades, but also for their service to the community. With this idea in mind, the Captain Shreve NHS selected Larry Brazil and Martha Crenshaw to compete for the $1,000 awards.

In the National Merit Scholarship program, nine Gators received Letters of Commendation for their performance on the NMS Qualifying Test. These students rank just below the NMS semi-finalists.

N.M.S. Corporation Scholars Honored

September of 1969 brought the announcement that six Captain Shreve students had attained the rank of semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program. Jim Cash, Mike Crowe, Neil Erwin, Christy Ramey, Paul Rudolph, and Bill Watson were included in a group of 15,000 students across the nation who scored the highest on the NMS Qualifying Test.

Ninety-seven percent of semi-finalists become finalists by scoring well on a second examination and receiving the endorsement of their schools. They may then compete for scholarships awarded by the NMS Corporation in the spring of 1970.

Legion Sponsors Louisiana State

Assuming a new name this year, the traditional Pelican State program became known as Louisiana State. Sponsored by the American Legion, this study in state government is held each August at LSU-Baton Rouge.

Creating imaginary cities and parishes, Captain Shreve's eleven delegates met with others from around Louisiana. Joining political parties and campaigning for offices, they were elected to positions in either local or state government. Individual awards were also given for outstanding citizenship.

TOP RIGHT: Louisiana State delegates were Russell Brabham, House of Representatives; Amy Peninger, Police Juror; Lang Wedgeworth, House of Representatives; Libby Alexander, Chief of Police; Paul Rudolph, Commissioner of Finance; Becky Jorden, Senator; Phil Meadows, Commissioner of Public Works; Martha Colquitt, House of Representatives; David Sour, Senator; Martha Crenshaw, House of Representatives; Mike Harrell, Senator and Mr. City Award.

ROTC and Z-Club Leaders Honored

As president of Captain Shreve's Z-Club, Sandra Prados represented the school on the Inter-City Council of Z-Clubs.

Another organization recognized for its service to the school was R.O.T.C. Leading the corps were Robert Gray, Battalion Commander, and Barbara Williams, the Little Colonel. Directing the Rifle Team was Randy Keator, with his sponsor Anne Loe, and Andy Day and Mary Becker led the Drill Team.

Gator Debaters Gained Trophies

Dedicating time and hard work to their goal, the debate team has once again succeeded in bringing home many honors. At the Woodlawn Sweepstakes, the debaters, by competing in many events, succeeded in acquiring enough overall points to win the highest award. Again at St. Charles top honors were gained by the team. A superior rating was given those who debated at the USL tournament, winning nineteen out of twenty debates.

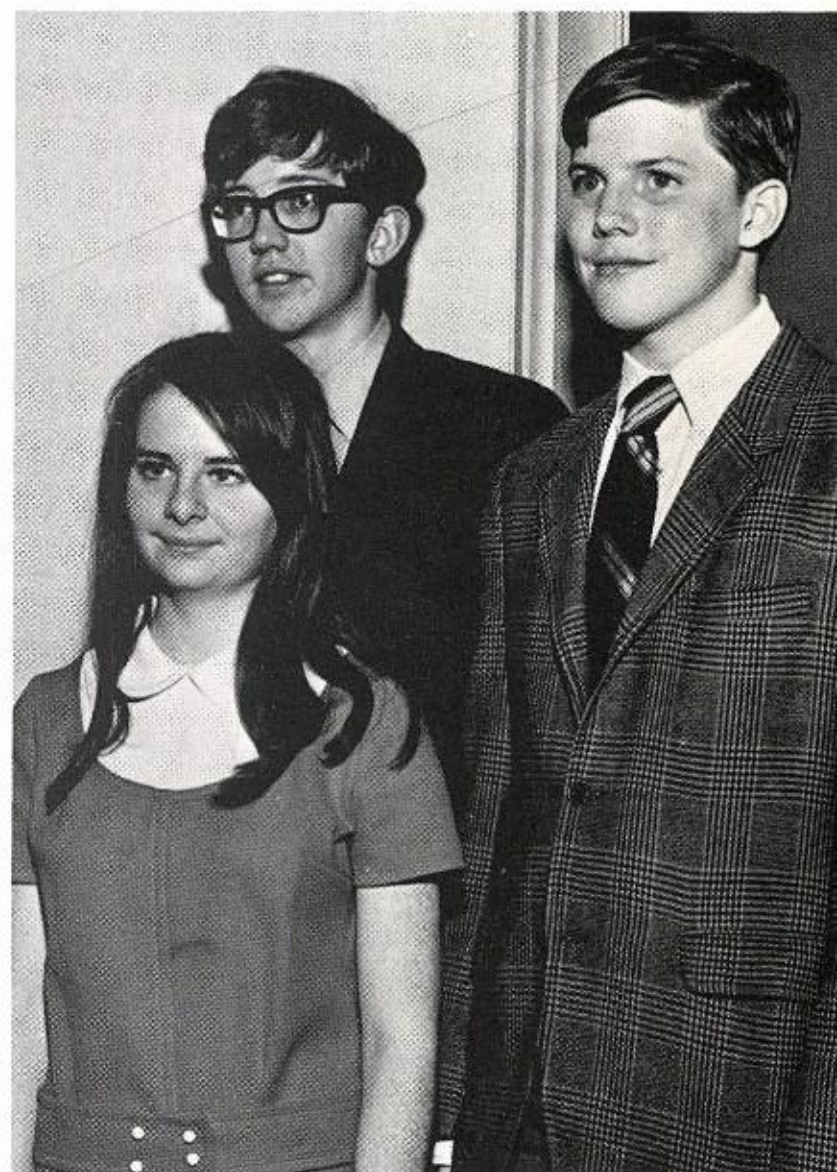

Individuality receives its rewards in such events as extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and interpretation. "Save Me a Place at Forest Lawn," an outstanding play, won first place recognition at USL.

Gators Selected to District Team

At the end of each football and basketball season, outstanding players are honored by being placed on city, district, and state teams. In only its second season, a Captain Shreve player, Mike Harrell, was named the state's most outstanding basketball player. He was also picked to the All-District and All-Southern teams, and chosen All-American, fourth string. Other Gators were honored on the second and third district teams.

This year, after a successful football season, Gators were well-honored by being chosen to the district first and second teams and to the state's second team.

TOP RIGHT: Mike Harrell received many swards for his outstanding performances in Gator basketball, among which was the award for Louisiana's outstanding high school basketball player for 1969. BOTTOM LEFT: Gator Jeff Suds was selected to the district's second string, and Shelby Houston was named to third string in district.

Excellence in music finds its reward in state music organizations. In the fall of the year members of bands and orchestras from all over the state auditioned before a board of music directors. The best player of each instrument is chosen to represent their district in either the All-State Band or in the All-State Orchestra.

Students chosen for this honor traveled to Monroe during the Thanksgiving holidays. While there they were given the opportunity to practice under the guidance of guest directors from Louisiana and Florida. They then gave concerts for the teachers attending the state teachers convention.

Gator Costume Arouses Spirit

In the spring of 1969, the Football Ad Staff decided to sponsor a senior student dressed as a gator to boost spirit at athletic events. After consulting a New York manufacturing, they purchased an $840 costume, designed by a sophomore member.

The Student Council executive committee nominated several seniors for the honor of wearing the costume; club presidents made the final choice. At the Woodlawn pep rally, Tim Springer appeared for the first time as AL E. Gator. Beginning a tradition that will continue in the years to come, Tim, as AL E. Gator, exhibits the enthusiasm and pride of all Gators.

Optimists Honor Leading Seniors

Many students have been honored during the year. The Optimist Club tapped Regina Jue and Larry Brazil as recipients of the club's Pat 'em on the Back Award. The Captain Shreve Student Council sent Christmas cards designed by Ken Anderson.

For the first year, the ENTERPRISE Staff bestowed the title of Spirits of 1970 on one senior boy and girl, Rick Robertson and Debbie Laidymon. Dennis Webb was elected national president of the Junior Classical League at their annual convention.

Gators Blank Rebels in Season's Debut

CAPTAIN SHREVE 19

WEST MONROE 0

Blanking West Monroe 19-0 before a large opening night crowd, the Gators opened their third season. Denny Duron guided a diversified offense that compiled a total of 173 yards rushing and 125 yards passing. Mike Harter led the Gators with 73 yards rushing in 17 carries.

A solid Gator defense kept Shreve out of trouble, overcoming some first game errors. A hot, muggy night had its effect on several players, with the Gators fumbling nine times and having a pass intercepted. "I'm just proud of the boys for winning the first one," said Coach Hedges. He believed the errors were just "first game mistakes."

Duron was the leading runner in the game with a total of 92 yards rushing and scored the first touchdown on a one yard sneak through the middle. Mark compiled a total of 81 yards rushing and scored the second TD. Gary Kennedy broke up a threat in the second half, nailing a Jesuit back for a 14 yard loss. "I can't say enough for the defense," complemented Coach Hedges.

Fair Park, holding the Gators to only 90 yards total offense, caught Captain Shreve napping in posting a 12-0 win in a surprising display of strength. Fair Park intercepted five Gator passes and tallied 225 yards total offense. The Indians also completed 10 of 24 passes for 138 yards and one touchdown, and made 13 first downs to seven for the Gators. Fair Park scored their final touchdown on a two yard run, but missed the extra point try.

Mike Mark was the game's leading rusher with 66 yards on 12 carries. Captain Shreve's defense intercepted four passes, two by Bo Harris, and caused an Indian fumble.

Reserves Jimmy Clayton and Terry Eberhardt completed four of six passes for 50 yards. Mike Mark was the game's leading rusher with 74 yards on four carries.

Harter was the leading rusher as he tallied an impressive 171 yards in 14 carries. Shreve's second big offensive weapon was Denny Duron who was successful in five out of eight passing attempts for 108 yards. He connected with Mike Swearingin three times, once for a TD with 13 seconds left in the first half. Duron capped that spectacular play with a run for two extra points.

Other scores came on a 16 yard Denny Duron to Mike Howell pass and a one yard burst by Duron. Steve Brian was successful on four of five extra point attempts.

Shreve's brilliant defense held Byrd to a minus 48 yards rushing. Mike Petree intercepted a pass leading to Howell's TD, and David Ketchand recovered a fumble resulting in a 37 yard touchdown run by Brian.

WOODLAWN 6

Gator fans left State Fair Stadium with mixed emotions of sadness and pride for their team as the Woodlawn Knights skimmed by the Shreve-men in a 6-3 heartbreaker. The Gators scored first on a 37 yard field goal by Steve Brian early in the second quarter.

The hard-hitting Gator defense issued the Knights a beating. Led by Ricky Berlin, Bo Harris, Bobby Gilliam, Wayne Millican, and Mike Petree, the bristling Gator defense put pressure on quarterback Johnny Booty, dropping him eight times behind the line. Knight Coach A. L. Williams admitted, "They (Shreve) just beat us physically. We picked up the rush well but got whipped."

Track Team Wins Second in Meet

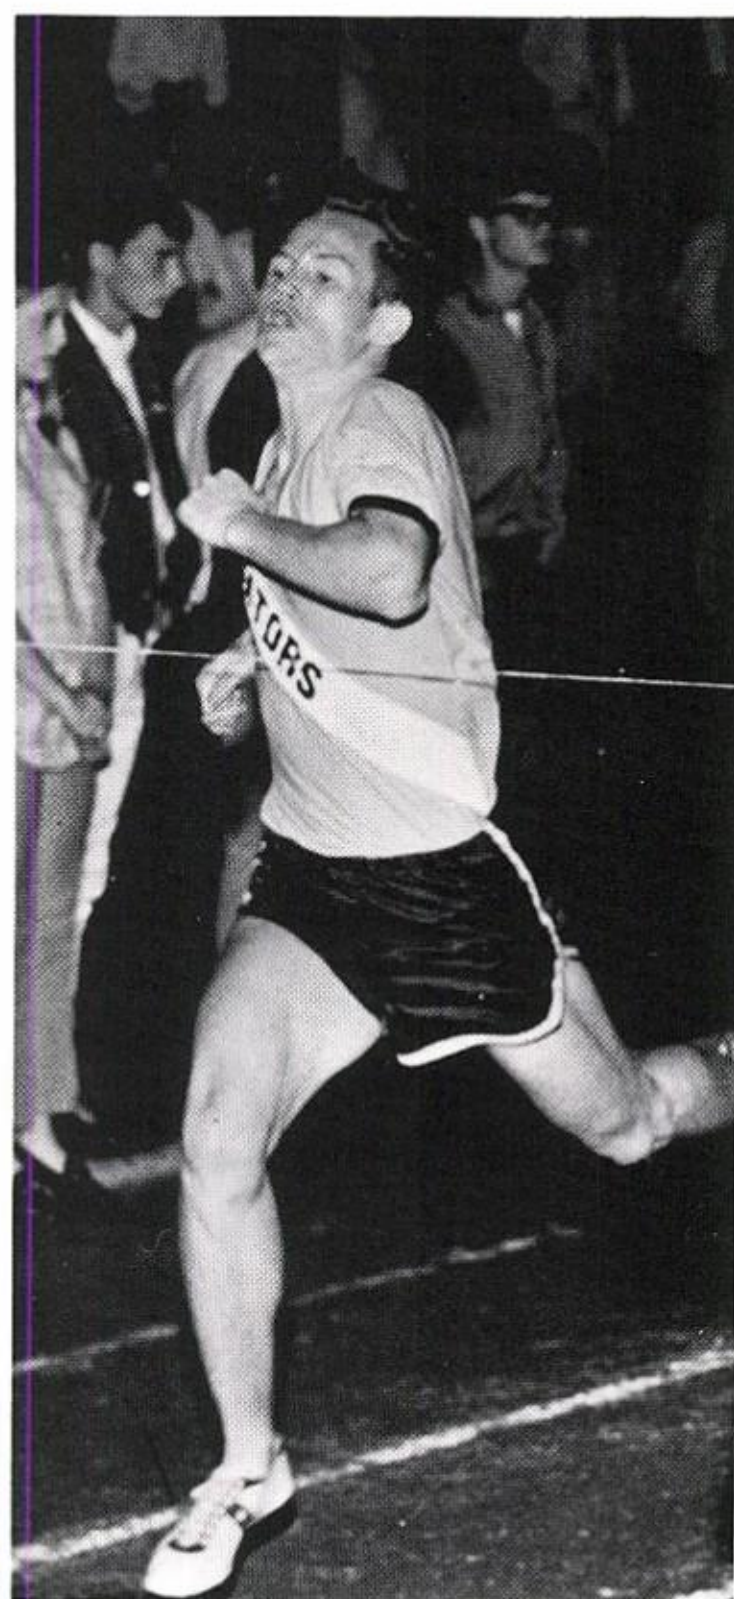

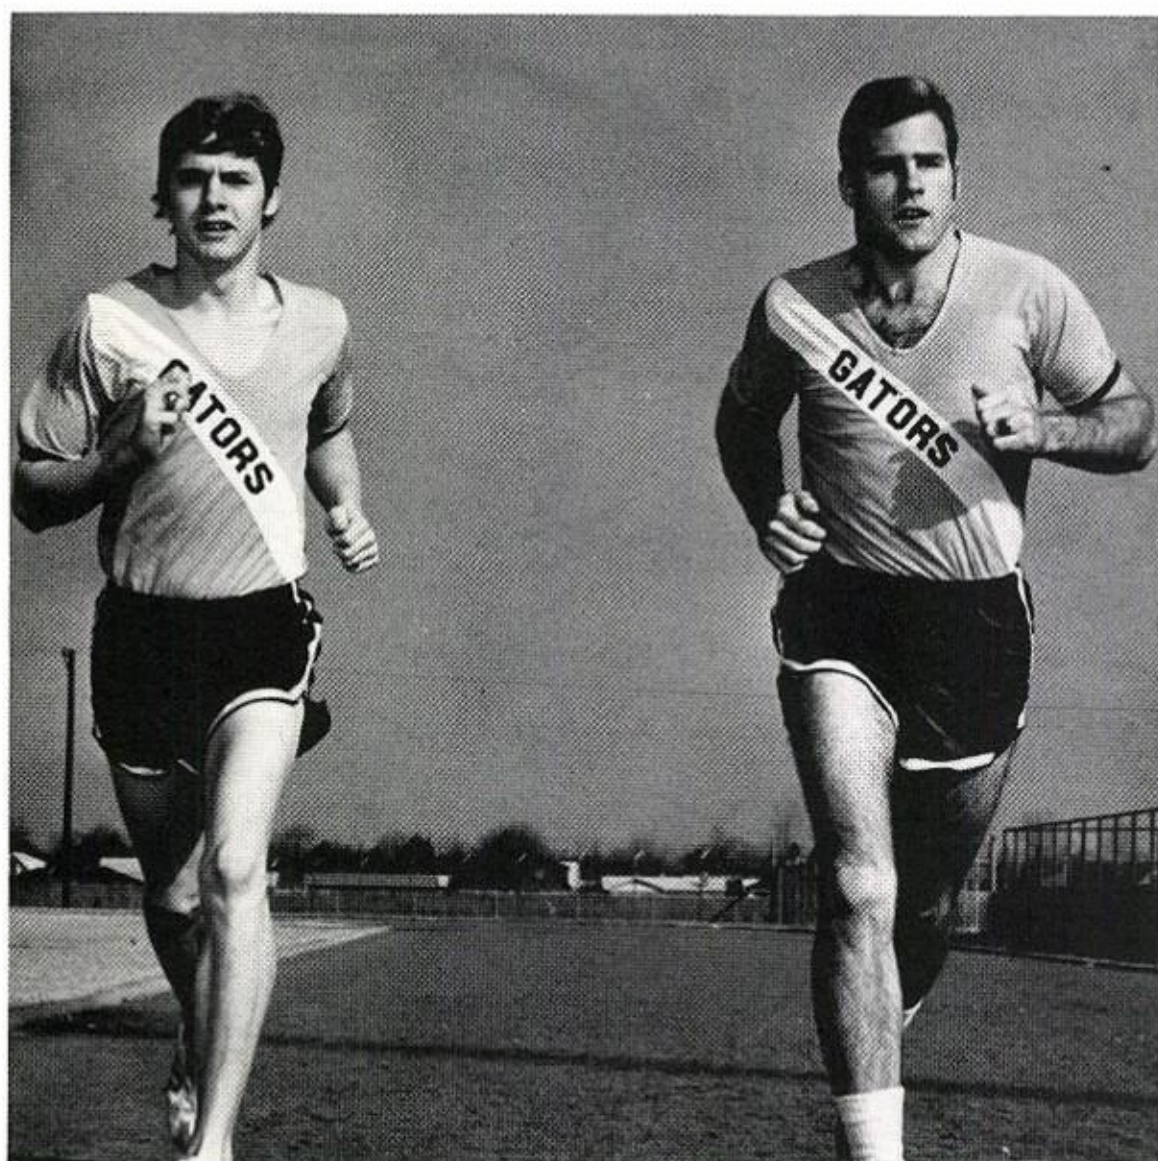

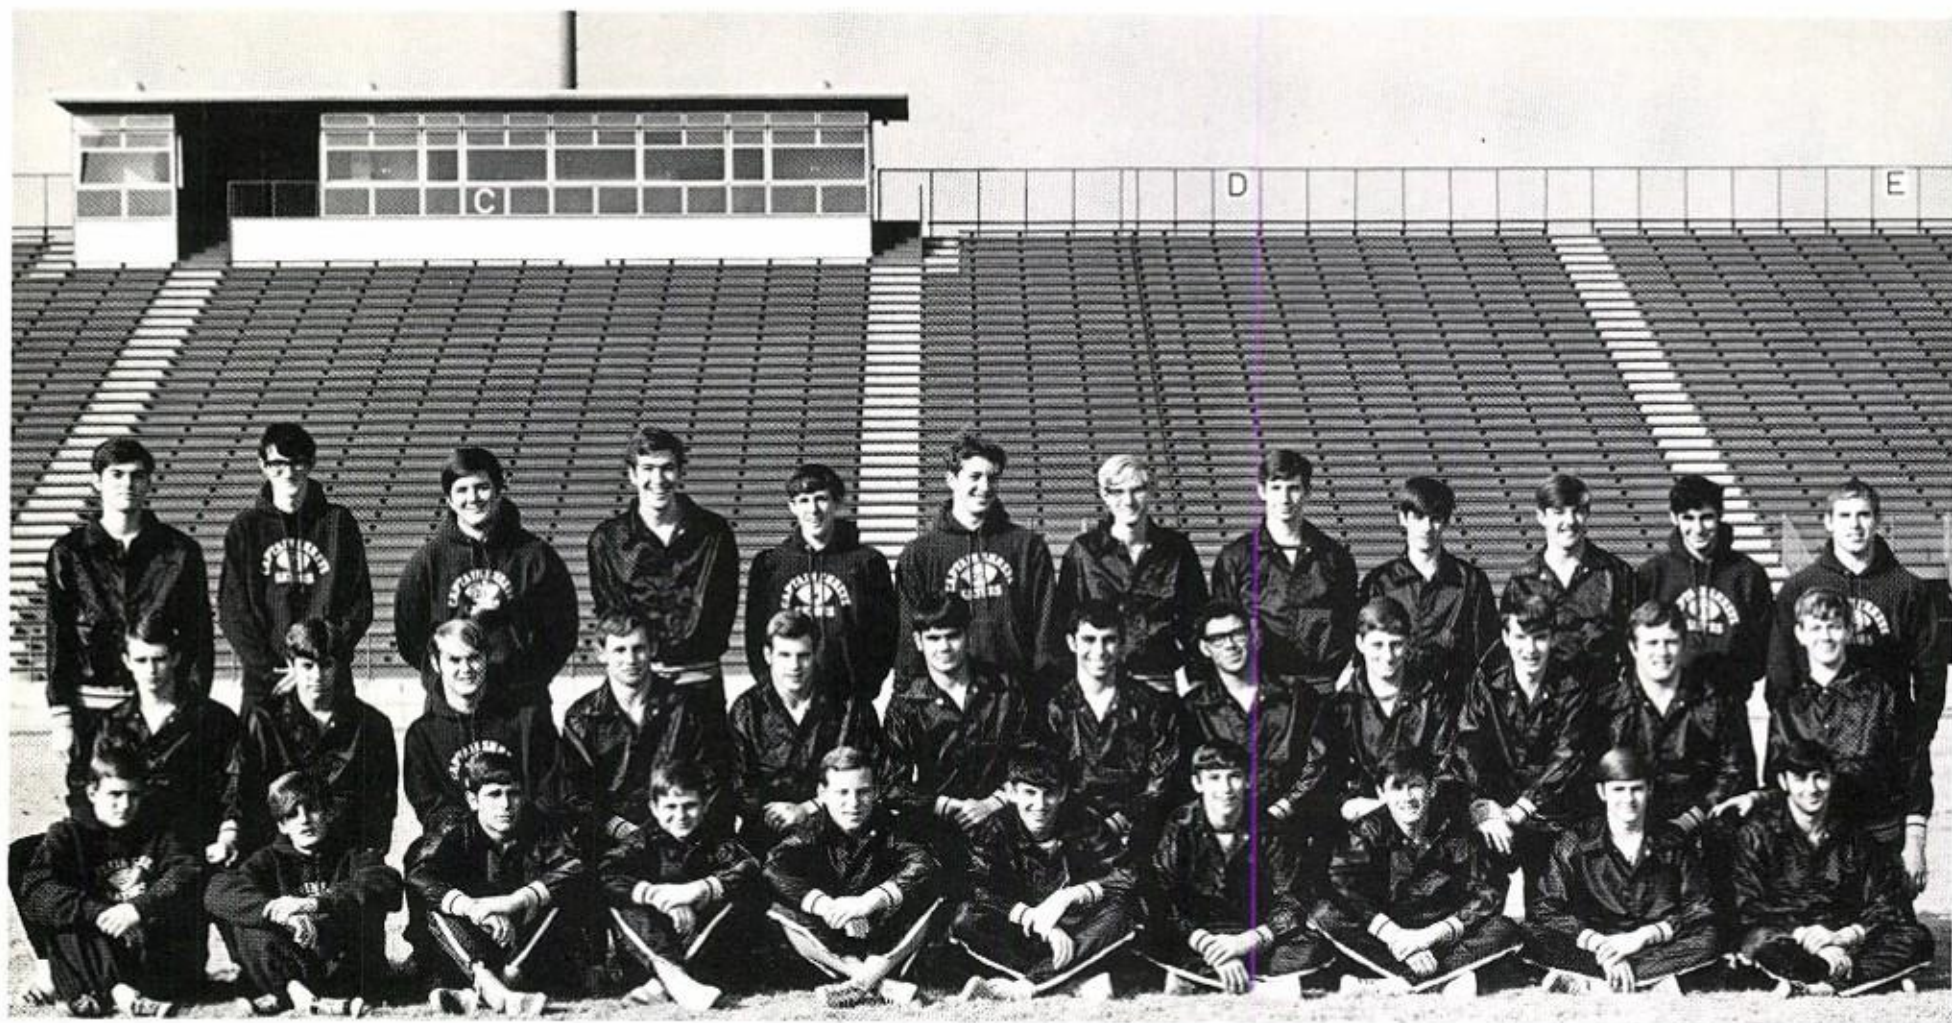

In its second year of existence, the Captain Shreve track team distinguished itself by winning third place in district competition. Placing second in the Woodlawn track meet aided the Gators in compiling their year's record. Two of the boys on the team, Mark Watson and Tommy Lewis, placed first in the high hurdles and second in the javelin respectively in the district meet.

The track team participates in various forms of competition. Among the aspects offered are running events such as hurdling, sprints, and cross country running, and field events such as javelin, discus, broad jump, and pole vaulting.

Captain Shreve's golf team climaxed a successful season by taking third place in state. Shelby Houston was chosen to the all-tournament team and also received the honor of being the second place medalist. Before attending state, the Gator team was victorious in the regional meet at Palmetto and the city meet at Meadowlake at which John Luck received the medal. The Gators were undefeated in district and regional play on all regulation courses.

Returning to help make this season a winning one were John Luck, Shelby Houston, John Wheless, and Eddie Lyons. They should give the Gators a good chance for state honors.

Gatorettes Outline Homecoming Crown

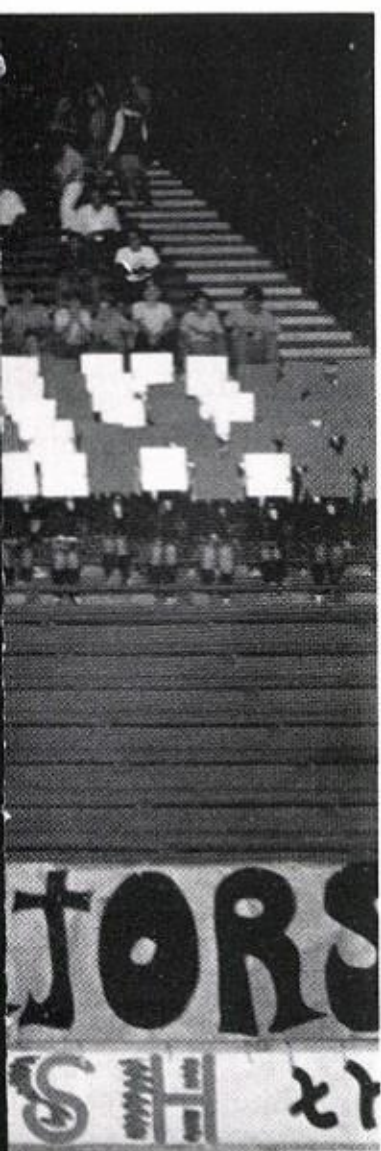

This year the Captain Shreve-Gatorettes formed a crown as the background for the presentation of the Homecoming court. Much hard work and many long hours were put into its making, both during and after school.

Under the direction of Mrs. Marylois Landrum and Mrs. Rita Crowder, the Gatorettes boost spirit, perform at games, and do various other jobs such as flash card routines. Beginning last August and continuing on through the football season, the Gatorettes practiced marching routines which they presented to the crowds at the games. A banquet at the Barn Dinner Theater highlighted the year.

Eighteen Members Form Drum Corps

With the money made from last year, the Gatoettes bought new drums, thus acquiring eighteen drummers. These eighteen, all seniors, were chosen from a large number who tried out last spring. Mr. Reggie Vaughn, who has helped the Gatoettes a great deal, judged the girls who tried out. They practiced over the summer and performed at games and pep rallies.

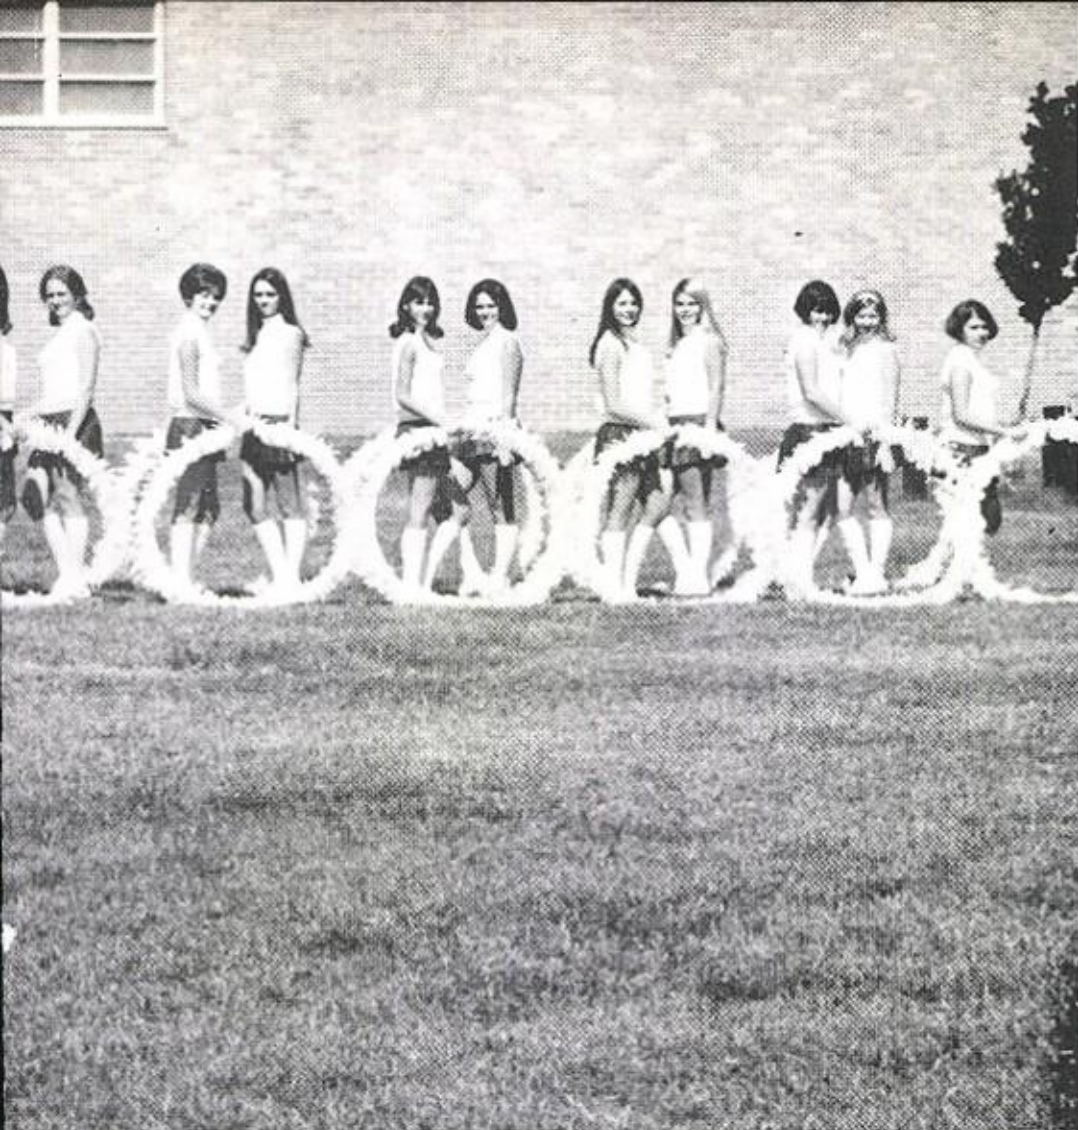

The drum corps is an indispensable part of the Gatoettes for they set the pace to which the pep squad marches. The familiar sound of their cadences can be heard at every game and practice. They also teach the juniors who try out for drum corps.

Performing a routine and forming an American flag, the Gator Gals participated in the half-time performance at the Woodlawn football game. They also participated in the Homecoming ceremonies in which they formed a bouquet of flowers and they put on a halftime and pre-game performance at the Fairpark and Airline games.

The Gator Gals are under the direction of Mrs. Rita Crowder and are a part of the Gatoettes. They devoted many hours coordinating their routines as well as performing their duties in the pep squad. On each girl's uniform is embroidered a "GG" significant of a true Gator Gal.

Cheerleaders Lead Clean-up Contest

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! The battle cry rang out as the Gator Cheerleaders promoted spirit throughout the school. Elected by the student body during the spring of 1969, they began work almost immediately. They participated in a cheerleading workshop at SMU and won nine blue ribbons and the spirit stick, which is given to the cheerleaders that display the most spirit.

In September they led a clean-up campaign sponsored by KEEL Radio. The sextet worked many hours making banners and planning pep rallies before each game. Through their hard work and enthusiastic leadership, Gator spirit reached a new height.

Waggoner Visits Captain Shreve

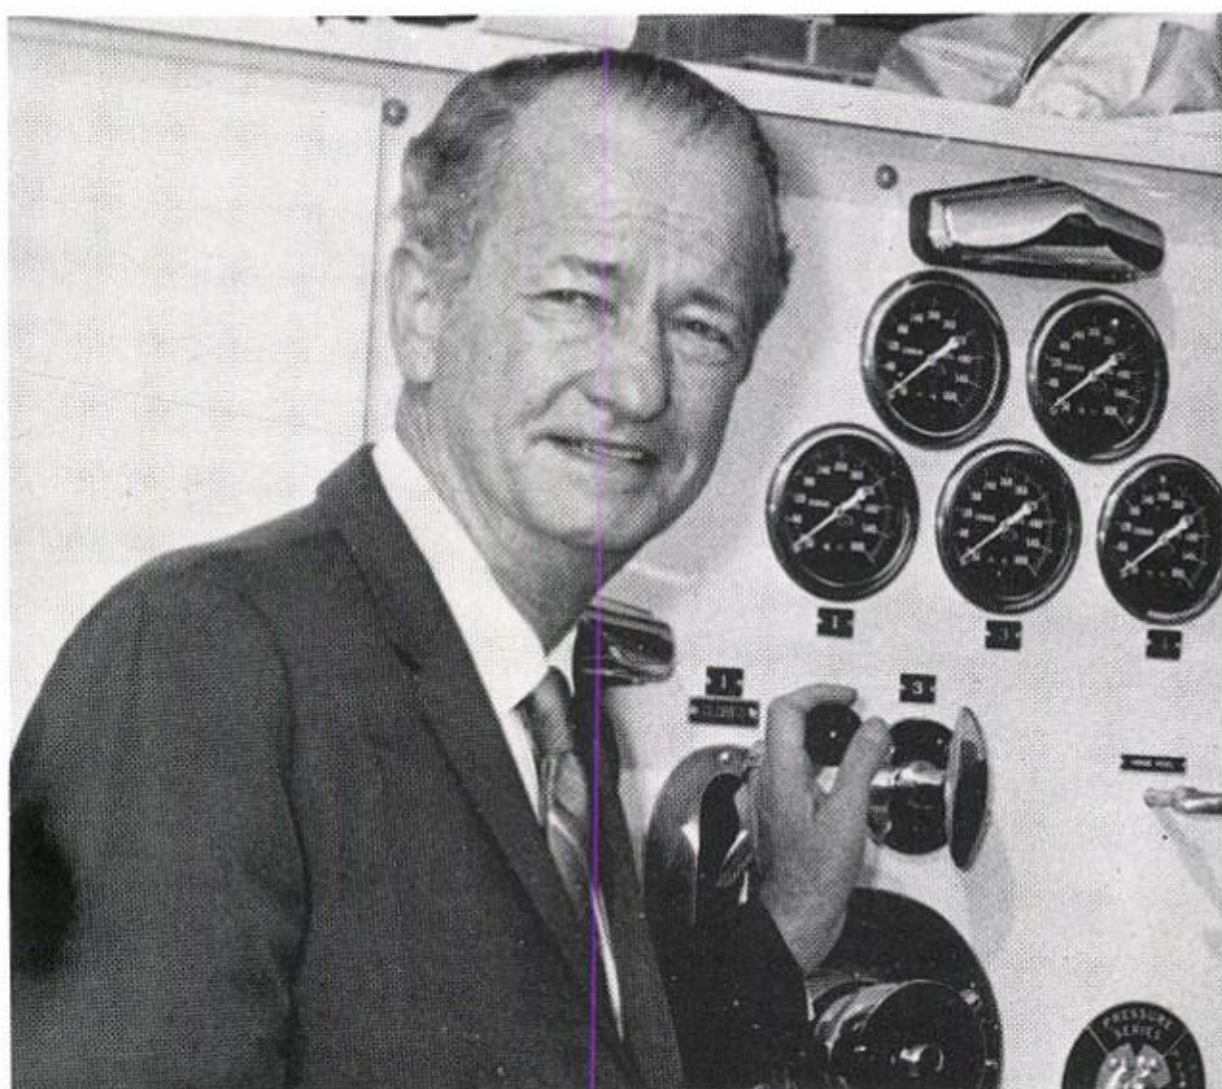

As the reflections of school life are recorded, so must the reflections of local, state, national, and international life of 1969-1970 be left for history. Perhaps the most outstanding event to occur was the landing of the first man on the moon by Neil Armstrong.

Governor John McKeithen continued his duties in his second term as governor of Louisiana. Captain Shreve was privileged to have Representative Joe D. Waggoner lead a question and answer period attended by leaders of the school. Mayor Clyde Fant governed Shreveport during his fifth term as mayor of the "City on the Grow."

Nixon and Agnew Head Government

Associated with the first walk on the moon was Neil Armstrong who made the first step onto the surface on July 20, 1969, 9:56 P.M. CDT. The President and Vice-President of the United States during this school year were Richard M. Nixon and Spiro T. Agnew. Two well known figures, Everett Dirksen and Ho Chi Minh, died leaving important governmental offices vacant.

Charles De Gaulle stepped down as president of France after much dissent within his country. President Nixon made many addresses to the nation during the year keeping the United States informed on all matters.

BOTTOM RIGHT: Ho Chi Minh, president of North Vietnam, addresses a rally before his death on September 3, 1969.
